HINTS FROM Heloise

From Heloise's Kitchen

Listen, folks, if you ever have any spaghetti sauce left over, and it's not quite enough for another meal, did you know that you could open a can of spiced, Mexican style chili beans, and dump it in and have a good substitute for chili with beans?

If your spaghetti sauce has meatballs in it, just chop 'em up before adding the beans.

Of course, you may want to add a bit of chili powder (I always do), but it sure is good eating.

Heloise

is less chance of dropping one. Sadie Lamert

Dear Heloise:

After sewing for over 20 years, I just learned that when marking handmade buttonholes if you will moisten your fingers and run them down the thread you are sewing with . . . about every five stitches, not only will it keep your thread from knotting . . . but it makes the prettiest buttonhole ever. Try it!

Martha

Dear Heloise:

An idea I have wanted to add to your collection:

If you sew a lot—which I do — use some of your leftover scraps to bind blankets.

It's real pretty, and costs nothing but a little time.

Mrs. M. Glen Bowers

Dear Heloise:

My mother just found a new use for your wonderful nylon net. When giving the dog a bath, she put some net over the drain, and it keeps a lot of the dog's hair from going down the drain and stopping it up.

After the pet's bath, just remove the little piece of net which has accumulated all the excess hair, and discard it.

Mrs. J. Burlant

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Directions are what we read AFTER we have done everything wrong. . . .

Annie

Dear Heloise:

Knick-knacks, dishes, etc., that I have prized but no longer use, I have begun to include in the gift boxes to my children.

They want them, enjoy having them to use, and remember them from their life at home.

I feel they may as well have them and get some use from them, since I am not using them — better than having them stored away.

Besides, you know where they are, and enjoy seeing them when you visit the "kids."

Helen

Dear Helen:

Please, please tell people not to dust books. It ruins them.

Hold the book firmly by front and back cover and "clap" closed, then just dust the backs.

Betty Williams

Dear Heloise:

Save large mayonnaise jars (or similar ones) and their lids.

Purchase spray paint to tone in with kitchen colors, and spray lids, or lids and jars, and use them for storing rice, macaroni, etc.

Make labels if you like.

Mrs. B. Frisby

Dear Heloise:

Here is a hint I would like to share with parakeet lovers:

I discovered that I can use brown paper bags which markets use to put our groceries in . . . and cut them to fit the bottom of my bird cage!

This brown paper is tough and the parakeet cannot shred it. I cut three sheets from each grocery bag and place one on top of the other.

Ruth Erwin

Dear Heloise:

When I string beads, I place them in the grooves of corrugated cardboard, graduating the beads in the order in which I wish to string them.

The beads can be picked up with the needle and there is no need to handle them, so there

Billboard Lover

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — "Now Patti hardly speaks to me," said Ralph Julian, 19, after he proclaimed his affection for his sweetheart, Patti Boyle, 18.

Ralph put up a billboard with foot-high letters proclaiming "Pattie: I love you! Will you marry me?" It was signed "Ralph."

Ralph didn't say why Patti wasn't speaking, whether because he misspelled her name or she was embarrassed.

He said Wednesday he hopes a more formal proposal will bring about a change of heart.

Profile GOP Leader Duryea As Young Man in Great Hurry

By GERRY McLAUGHLIN
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Republican veterans express little surprise when told that Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea Jr. travels each week from the tip of Long Island to Albany in less than an hour. In the less than six years he has served in the Assembly, the 44-year-old seafood company executive from Montauk Point has established himself as a young man in a hurry.

He made that clear in January when he spearheaded an intra-party revolt and unseated veteran Republican Assemblyman George L. Ingalls of Binghamton as minority leader. In a very literal sense, Duryea's flying ability helped him gather the support he needed to oust Ingalls from the leadership he had held for five years. As chairman of the GOP's Assembly Campaign Committee, Duryea swept around the state last fall in his single-engine Piper Aztec, speaking in behalf of Republican candidates and winning valuable friendships.

Party strategists credit him and Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson with helping the GOP score victories in many areas where legislative races were close.

In Forefront
His position in the forefront of the Assembly's youthful GOP

"power elite" is further enhanced by the mounting power of suburban areas. With the courts pressing for redistribution of legislative seats on a one-man, one-vote basis, the suburban communities stand to gain more and more influence in both the Senate and Assembly.

Duryea's own county — Suffolk — has experienced a population increase of 38 per cent in the last five years and leads the state in rate of growth. The six-foot, four-inch Duryea stands tall in the company of such party luminaries as Richard J. Bartlett of Glens Falls, the Assembly minority whip, and John Terry of Syracuse, the probable choice for campaign chairman this year.

Tall as Lindsay
Watching Duryea rise to speak recently, a long-time GOP aide remarked, "He's as tall as Lindsay."

The official went on to explain that Duryea — with his height, forceful personality and comparative youth — possesses the kind of political sex appeal that won votes for the late President John F. Kennedy and the current New York City mayor, John V. Lindsay.

Those close to Duryea say it was impatience with what he viewed as Ingalls' slow-moving style of leadership that incited the revolt in which Bartlett and Terry joined.

Men who have observed the Legislature for several generations liken the change in the minority leadership to that which took place in 1935. In that year, the late Irving Ives and Oswald D. Heck engineered the ouster of Joseph A. McGinnies of Chautauque from the Republican leadership in the Assembly.

Takes Command
The following year, after the Democratic-controlled Legislature had failed to carry out reapportionment, the GOP took

Esopus Corporal Wounded in Viet

Marine Corporal David E. Reilly of Parker Avenue, Esopus, was wounded on February 28 in the vicinity of DaNang, Viet Nam as a result of action against hostile forces.

He was treated at the Third Medical Battalion Aid Station and scheduled to be evacuated to the U. S. Naval Hospital Ship, the USS Repose. He is attached to Co. A, 1st Bat., 3rd Marine Division.

Major William J. Madigan of Albany, called at the Reilly home last Wednesday night and a telegram followed on Thursday morning to confirm the message.

Corporal Reilly entered the Marines on January 3, 1963 for a three-year enlistment and extended for one year as of January 1, 1966.

He was graduated from Kingston High School, Class of 1962. During the four years he attended, he became a well-known wrestler with his team and served one year as captain. Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick visited with Corporal Reilly at Chulai in December when he toured Viet Nam.

command and Ives became Assembly speaker. He made Heck his majority leader.

Ives went on to become a U.S. senator and Heck ascended to the speakership, which he held from 1937 to his death in 1959.

If Duryea has ambitions beyond the Assembly, he has not outlined them publicly. But he is known to have the same zest for public life that motivated his father, a former GOP state senator and conservation commissioner under former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The elder Duryea entered the wholesale seafood business in 1921.

Lobster Course
The firm specializes in lobsters, and the current minority leader often presents fellow legislators with the speciality of the house.

When time permits, Duryea relaxes by playing what friends describe as a fair game of golf. He also likes to hunt partridge, quail and pheasant and go after the big game fish that abound in the waters off Montauk.

He is married to the former Elizabeth Ann Weed. They have two children—Linda, 18, a freshman at Bucknell, and Perry B. "Chip" Duryea 3rd, 17, a student at The Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.

Episcopal Schedule

Christ the King Episcopal Church, the Rev. Vincent Anderson, Priest-in-charge — Services for the third Sunday in Lent at 8 a. m. and 10 a. m.

Area Activities
The regular meeting of the High Falls Civic Society will be held in the firehall Tuesday, March 22. All people interested in village events may attend.

Those of the village attending the Regional History Workshop sessions on Wednesday include Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Hasbrouck, Mrs. Ernest Jansen, Mrs. Louise Yeaple and John Novi. There are six of these workshops sponsored by the Division of Social Science of the Ulster County Community College and the Ulster County Historical Society.

Harry Rigby Jr. was the speaker of last week's session. He spoke on A Colony Is Founded and followed it up to the time the British took over.

Mrs. Louise Yeaple accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Beatty of New Paltz to the 49th International Flower Show at the Coliseum in New York, last Sunday.

Abe Dunn and Ernest Jansen visited Mr. Dunn's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunn in Hyde Park on Tuesday. Jack Dunn is ill at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thornton and children of Windsor, Conn., visited Mrs. Thornton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold vanLaer Sr. Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles vanLaer and children of Smithtown, L. I. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold vanLaer Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Nicholas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andersen have returned home after a vacation in Florida.

Miss Sally Jo Ruffner spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ruffner. Four of her college classmates, the Misses Teddie Troy, Terry Williams, Barb Bechtold and Pat Archbald, accompanied Miss Ruffner. They will all graduate in June from Columbia University School of Nursing.

Mrs. Dorothy Beach is still recuperating in North Jersey at the home of her sister. She is reported to be somewhat improved.

A joint committee of the High Falls firemen and the ladies auxiliary met in the firehall Wednesday and planned a Yankee pot roast supper to be held on April 23 to raise money to pay for badly needed new chairs. The public may attend and help this joint effort of the fire company.

The ladies auxiliary also is sponsoring a St. Patrick's Day card party at the Rock Cliff

Sorenson Reviews Political Change

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "Politics in this country haven't been the same since 1960 and never will be," says one of the late President John F. Kennedy's closest advisors.

Theodore C. Sorenson, special advisor to the late President, made that assertion Thursday night in a speech at the 4th annual History Lecture at Syracuse University.

Sorenson told the audience of about 1,600 that President Kennedy made politics "interesting and exciting."

"Further more," Sorenson said, Kennedy "shattered the religious barrier so effectively that the religious issue is dead today."

No longer, Sorenson said, will 15 to 25 per cent of the electorate be predisposed to vote against a Catholic, not because Kennedy won the 1960 election, "but by his performance in the White House."

He predicted that "we will see in our lifetime a Negro in the Senate, and on the U.S. Supreme Court, and in the not too distant future we may see a Jew, a Negro, and possibly a woman on the national ticket."

Sorenson is the author of a book that outlines his years with the late president.

Modern Liberalism Scored by S. C. Solon

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Republican Sen. J. Strom Thurmond says modern liberalism is based on a "concept of moral and political relativism" that on a high level manifests itself in "government's right to lie."

The South Carolina legislator made that charge Tuesday night in a speech before 800 students and faculty members at Colgate University here.

This relativism, Thurmond said, is the greatest threat to liberty in this country. "Above all, the extensiveness of moral and political relativism lies in a public and an electorate which is shock proof, which accepts as inevitable the fraud, deceit and corruption exposed in our political institutions..."

TEACHING ROLE FOR COURTS

The figure for traffic deaths is the one we usually read about. (In case you hadn't heard, it totalled 49,000 for the United States in 1965.)

But the traffic situation abounds in many other statistics. One that is only a little less shocking is the fact that last year no less than 21.5 million drivers—almost one out of every four drivers in the country—were involved in more than 12 million reported accidents of varying degrees of seriousness.

During the same period, a total of 30 million drivers, including those involved in accidents, were given summonses for various violations. Yet only one-fifth of these violators were required to appear before a judge in our jammed traffic courts, and many of them received only assembly-line consideration of their cases.

How many of the millions who did not appear in court will go on having accidents until they eventually graduate into the mortality column is anybody's guess.

According to one interested party—J. Harry LaBrun, vice chairman of the American Bar Association's Standing Committee on Traffic Court Program—adequate enforcement on traffic laws coupled with proper education of violators in traffic courts could effect an 80 to 90 per cent reduction in the present rate of accidents in the United States.

The nation's traffic courts must serve as an instructional force, he says, and adequate corrective penalties must be assessed to achieve voluntary observance of traffic laws. One way to achieve this would be nationwide application of the ABA-approved standard which calls for mandatory appearance in traffic court of all drivers who commit hazardous moving violations.

Unless traffic courts are furnished enough judges and courtrooms to hear these cases, says LaBrun, we may be tempted to substitute out-of-court procedures for the "convenience" of the public.

Not only would this not serve an educative function, it could, he warns, lead to summary suspensions of licenses and the loss of the constitutional rights of defendants and rules of evidence.

Expanding the nation's traffic courts would take money, of course. Americans are willing enough to spend it on more highways, but they have always been notably un-enthusiastic when it comes to shelling out to pay for the consequences of those highways.

A prosperous era lies ahead for farmers—those who have managed to survive the weeding-out process of recent years, that is.

HUMPHREY VS. KENNEDY

It is being said that when Vice President Humphrey and Senator Robert F. Kennedy squared off on the subject of Vietnam they were exchanging the first blows in their putative battle for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. This is a fair guess, though at this stage one might think of their maneuvers less as first blows than as early jockeying for position in a long endurance race.

At any rate, the idea that the nomination will inevitably fall to one of these two aspirants has been expressed so often that it has become accepted almost as a part of the general folk wisdom. Hardly anyone presumes to dispute that this is the way things are to be—a Humphrey-Kennedy fight of rising intensity with the victor emerging to replace President Johnson as the party standard bearer.

We do not flatly dispute it, either, but we have some reservations about going along entirely with the view that it will have to be either Humphrey or Kennedy in 1972. It is worthwhile to bear in mind that things may not work out in just this way. Politics is an uncertain business.

Many things may happen between now and six years hence to change the picture. For one thing, it is not beyond possibility that the vice president and the young senator from New York via Massachusetts will knock each other out of the running. A deadlock has more than once brought a compromise candidate to the fore.

One should also remember that, despite

'These Days'

NIXON, MAHOOT OF THE BULL ELEPHANTS

The Republicans, for the most part, have adopted a position of watchful waiting while the Democrats have been cutting each other up over the question of the Vietnam War. Insofar as the 1966 Congressional elections are concerned, there may be short-term merit to this strategy. But there is one important Republican who never tires of saying that his party should be taking a far more positive role in this business of bringing the Vietnam War to a victorious conclusion.

Talking to the administrative assistants to Republican Congressmen in Washington the other day, Richard Nixon made it plain that he rejects the passivity that seems to have overcome many in his party. Nixon told the "bull elephants," as the Congressional Republican administrative assistants are called, that the time had come for Americans to cease apologizing for the war. Those who were present at the meeting, which did not include members of the press, said that he made a terrific impression on the bull elephants, many of whom are in a position to influence their bosses in the Congress.

What Nixon did for the bull elephant group was to turn the talk of Vietnam War "risks" a hundred and eighty degrees around. Everybody has been listening to the fears that one bit of war escalation may lead to another; that casualties may become unacceptable to the voters; that a confrontation with the Russians in Haiphong harbor is full of danger; that the Red Chinese may actively enter the war; that digging the Viet Cong out of the jungles is a hopelessly frustrating job, etcetera, etcetera. But what, so Nixon asked, are the risks of failing to fight the war to the successful end of denying the Communists any reward for their aggression? (A refusal to reward aggression would, in Nixon's opinion, be victory enough for our side.)

Letting the Viet Cong off the hook, said Nixon, entails the risk that thousands of South Vietnamese anti-Communists will eventually die in a purge. It entails risk that Laos will be completely Communized; that Thailand will be infiltrated and its government, now firmly allied with the United States, will be toppled; that the pressure on Malaysia and the Philippines will become intolerable; that Indonesia will move back into the Communist orbit. But these risks, which form the substance of the "falling domino" theory, were subordinate in Nixon's mind to the biggest risk of all, the risk that the U.S. would lose all its credibility as a professed protector of the free world if it should make itself the sponsor of a bad "coalition" peace in Southeast Asia. Not only would the South Koreans, the Japanese, the Taiwan Chinese, the Filipinos, the Thais and other Asian peoples cease to trust our word. Skepticism of the U.S. purposes would spread rapidly throughout Australia, Africa, Latin America, and the NATO nations of Europe.

Acceptance of a coalition government in South Vietnam would, in Nixon's opinion, be a distinct "reward for aggression." Thus it would amount to a defeat for U.S. arms. All of the risks involved in such a defeat would slowly become operative. And the final risk, that the U.S. would be forced to fight other wars—in Thailand, in the Philippines, even in Latin America or Europe—would begin to loom down the road.

In opposing what he calls the "Lippmann-Fulbright" thesis Nixon can hardly be called opportunistic. He was talking about U.S. responsibilities in Southeast Asia at the time when the French were under siege at their "enclave" in Dien Bien Phu. His voice, in Republican councils, is the voice of continuity.

What is important to the Republican future is that Nixon seems to be the only party leader who does more than "leave the war up to LBJ." Romney, Scranton, Rockefeller, Hatfield, even Everett Dirksen and Gerald Ford, have been doing a minimum of prodding for victory in South Vietnam. What the effect of his outspokenness will be on Nixon's political future is something worth watching. He remains the leading contender in the polls for the 1968 Republican Presidential nomination. He is importuned every day for speeches; his aides say he has more than two thousand speech requests on file. He is about to blossom forth as a nationally syndicated newspaper columnist, and he plans to accept fifty of those speech requests in fifty districts that promise to be critical in the 1968 Congressional elections. Proper Drugs Can Curb The Seizures of Epilepsy

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Are you born with epilepsy or can it be caused by an injury?

A—Both. The cause of idiopathic epilepsy is unknown but in many victims heredity appears to play a part. Symptomatic epilepsy may be caused by an injury to the brain, a brain tumor or an infection involving the brain.

Q—Is any medical research being centered on finding a cure for epilepsy? What are the chances that a cure will be found?

A—The American Epilepsy Society (330 Ninth Avenue, Salt Lake City 3, Utah), The Epilepsy Foundation (1729 F Street N.W., Washington 6, D.C.) and The National Epilepsy League (209 N. Wells Street, Chicago, Ill. 60606) are voluntary health organizations that promote general education regarding this disease and support various research projects.

Although no permanent cure has been found there are several drugs which, taken in the proper dosage for the individual epileptic, will effectively control the seizures in a large portion of cases. You must remember, however, that epilepsy is not a single disease but a group of diseases with many causes and no one treatment can be applied to all.

Q—Can convulsive seizures with amnesia or syncope with amnesia be caused by an emotional upset when brain wave tests fail to show any evidence of epilepsy and treatment with an anti-convulsant (Dilantin) has not been effective?

A—Convulsions or fainting, with or without a loss of memory for the period covered by the attack, may be caused by hysteria which is essentially a disorder of the emotions. The pattern of such convulsions is quite different from that of epilepsy; the brain wave findings are different, and the drugs used to control epilepsy would be of no value.

Q—If you have convulsions when 2 years old and have had none since, would they be likely to come back at the age of 60?

A—Anyone may get a convulsive disease at any time but, if there had been an interval of 58 years, the cause of the two episodes would be entirely unrelated.

Q—If a person develops diabetic retinitis and is losing his sight, can the eye of a person who has just died be transplanted to restore sight to the diabetic?

A—No. So far only a clouded cornea—not a whole eye—can be transplanted. . . .

Q—What would cause my fingers to get numb and the corners of my mouth to get sore?

A—Pernicious anemia is a good bet but a vitamin deficiency should also be considered.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Humphrey's vantage point and despite the fact Kennedy has attracted much attention during his relatively brief time in public office, others in the party also have some claim to consideration. Democrats would be foolish to shrug off these others merely because it is so commonly said, at this stage of the game, that the choice will be between Humphrey and Kennedy.

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Many misleading things are being said or implied about the role of the Viet Cong and their political arm, the National Liberation Front, in South Viet Nam.

These matters deserve examination, since they stand at the heart of the argument many Democratic senators are making—that the NLF must be included as an independent entity in any negotiations and possibly also in interim and permanent governments to follow.

Citing South Vietnamese Premier Cao Ky as his source, New York's Sen. Robert Kennedy has said often that the Vietnamese government in Saigon controls only 25 per cent of the country's population of 15 million.

In the context of his remarks, the clear implication is inevitably that the Viet Cong control the other 75 per cent.

Other critics of administration policy in Viet Nam have said or implied again and again that, for all practical purposes, the Viet Cong are the dominant force in that land.

THESE NOTIONS DO NOT FIT the known judgments of appraisers close to the South Vietnamese scene.

First off, most cited figures affecting control cover the rural population leaving out of account the people in Saigon, Hue and a few other key cities.

Using these non-city calculations, it is stated today by responsible appraisers that the government controls 25 per cent of the people, the Viet Cong another 25 per cent, and the remaining 50 per cent are in a no-man's-land of shifting control.

—but clearly not under the Red heel.

If the 1.6 million in South Viet Nam's four largest cities be thrown into the balance, the proportion of the people under government control falls somewhere between 35 and 40 per cent.

It is also implicit in many critics' remarks that what the Viet Cong control today they will continue to control until they come to the negotiating table. This assumes there can be no major shift toward our side in the war, short of massive escalation which might run the risk of bringing in Red China.

Yet many new pieces of evidence do not support the idea that the Viet Cong will continue to control 25 per cent of the rural people.

One recent published report from an independent battlefield observer suggested strongly that both the quality and morale of Viet Cong cadres is sagging gravely.

Prisoners' testimony makes plain the VC are terrified of U. S. tactical air power, not to mention their mounting evidence of this country's incredible fire power. They are said to be desperately weary of hiding and running.

MORE THAN ONCE, critical analysts have suggested that if Hanoi went to the peace table as the sole Red representative, it might find the Viet Cong pressing to fight on independently. The growing evidence suggests it may be just the other way around.

The stiff resolve is coming today from North Viet Nam. With upwards of 16,000 army regulars already in South Viet Nam, Hanoi is reported sending some 4,000 additional soldiers each month down the Ho Chi Minh trail.

To beef up faltering VC cadres, the North Vietnamese soldiers and those still-determined VC middle echelon leaders are pushing more and more villagers to the point of total alienation. Ancient prejudices against the northerners play a part in villagers' hostility.

Some 25 per cent of the South Vietnamese people may or may not continue under effective Red control as the war proceeds. If that figure does hold, the indications seem strong that these harassed rural folk will in time be ruled largely by the North Vietnamese army—not by the Viet Cong.

Children are always dangerous. You don't know what they're thinking. Or if they can. Sometimes they are generous angels. At others, they appear to be selfish fiends. I was listening to Gene Kroll at dinner and he was talking children—especially grandchildren. He said he had a grandson in kindergarten who flunked every test.

Mr. Kroll is a handsome man with a ruddy face and jet wavy hair. He is the originator of the Thunderbolt Golf Classic, but before that, he had a Ford Agency in Long Branch, N. J. He talks like a professional comedian, telling stories with terseness and punch.

One day, when we were late leaving the golf course, he said: "Now I'm gonna catch it." I asked why. "Because," he said slowly and elaborately, "I was supposed to meet my wife an hour ago." I asked what she could do about it. "She'll fix me," he said, lowering his head and jutting the bottom lip a little.

"How?" I said. "Easy," he murmured. "She'll speak to me."

The grandson who flunked scissors may turn out to be a genius. There was a kid in my class who flunked tests. Today he sits and invents things and his patents bring him in enough to have a big home, a yacht, and a lot of stupid kids.

Damon Runyon was always wary of children. W. C. Fields knew that the best way to treat moppets was to hit them with a pool cue. I once studied under a nun who had no appreciation of children at all. When I brought a book to school called In Darkest Africa, she lost her head because it featured photos of nude natives, and tried to cure me with a ruler and a high backing.

Karen came home from school one day weeping that she had flunked geography. I showed her a big illuminated globe and spent 40 minutes on a lecture about continents, oceans and gulfs. I even used an electric light on the slowly spinning globe to show how daylight and night occur.

When I was finished, exhaustion was close. I sat. The child smiled sweetly and said, "That's very interesting, but I don't think you understand. I flunked geography. I just can't spell the word."

After they grew a little taller, their mother urged that I give the girls a pre-adolescent lecture on sex. I said: "You do it." She said: "You do it." This led to a compromise. I did it.

On this occasion, the lecture was delivered after dinner, while the dessert dishes were still on the table. The girls listened gravely, as I explained, with some degree of antipathy, about procreation, periods of gestation, marriage, mating and the miracle of birth.

When I had finished, I said: "No questions." My desire was to quit while I was slightly ahead. The girls conferred. Then Kathy said pleadingly: "Can't we ask one? Just one teeny question?" I nodded. "Fire away," I said.

"All we want to know, is: What's sex?"

A long time prior to that.

DeGaulle Starting Gradual Disintegration of Defense

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Gen. de Gaulle will see the demise of his hopes of getting help someday from the West. As for the people of West Germany, they will have less military protection against the Soviet Union, and can anticipate a rise in Communist strength. This could dash aside any hopes of reunification with the people of East Germany.

On the political side, the efforts of Gen. de Gaulle to develop a closer relationship with the Soviet government are already apparent as he plans an early trip to Moscow for that purpose. So with France on friendly terms with the Peking regime and getting into a quasi-alliance also with the Soviet government, there is bound to be anxiety in Europe as to what the new French nationalism means in terms of the safety of the other countries of western Europe.

The United States has hitherto been the bulwark of strength in NATO and has furnished most of the funds for the maintenance of a defensive military posture in Western Europe. But if France backs out and, in effect, tells the United States to depart from its territory—as recent developments indicate—the plight of Europe will become grave. Although Gen. de Gaulle says he will permit American forces to keep their bases in France until 1969, it is recognized here by military men that merely to move the American air bases from France to Great Britain will not solve the problem.

The danger arises from the fact that the Western alliance cannot quickly provide a big enough army and bases anywhere in Europe from which it can operate effectively if the Communists should suddenly decide on an invasion with large land forces rather than the use of major weapons in the nuclear field.

If Gen. de Gaulle has his way and France withdraws from NATO, there would not be enough ground forces in Western Europe to help West Germany ward off an invasion. The Communists could overrun that country, and be on their way toward taking over France and the rest of Europe as well.

Military men are perplexed over the de Gaulle moves, for they think he is ignoring the simple elements of strategy and making it difficult for the United States to come to the rescue in time if a Communist invasion should someday be started without warning. In the next year the debate over the future safety of Western Europe may transcend in importance any other international question.

All this is bound to produce uneasiness throughout Europe. The eastern bloc of Communist states will see diminished hopes of getting help someday from the West. 'Change of Heart' A Real Thing*Medical Advancement High, Computers Add to Science

EDITOR'S NOTE — Behind the immediate problem of matching limited manpower to vastly expanding programs, big changes are ahead for American medicine. This final article of a series of five looks at medical care of the future.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Medicine has chalked up tremendous successes in postponing death, relieving pain, in patching people up.

And it is only starting to realize its full potential.

Some elements in your future health care are suggested by doctors and other specialists, conservative or liberal in their viewpoints.

One major emphasis, most agree, will be upon preventing disabilities and illnesses, including cancer, heart attacks, and even the galloping plague of the common cold.

Computers Utilized

The emphasis will be upon keeping you well and vigorous, through total, comprehensive care. You may, each year, have a checkup involving 30 or more tests, most of them simple, with automated equipment and a computer analyzing results initially for your doctor to consider, suggests Dr. C. C. Cutting of the Permanente Medical Group in Oakland, Calif.

Within five years, possibly, ailing human hearts may be removed and replaced with small, battery-operated mechanical hearts.

Ultimate success is expected in the dream of becoming able to be how vital organs — kidneys, hearts, glands, limbs — from the dead and transplanting them into the living. Death often knocks prematurely because one organ fails in a person who otherwise is 90 per cent healthy.

Some scientists confidently expect we shall learn how to alter human heredity, one's genes, to prevent inheritable defects, as well as to correct those that do occur. And they suggest we'd test begin now to think about safeguards to assure that genetic "tampering" is done wisely and with constructive interests only.

Life Span Increased

Average life spans may increase appreciably. It is more likely that debilitating, degenerative diseases of aging will be postponed longer.

Some nagging moral or ethical questions may become more acute: Just how long should heroic and expensive efforts and medications be continued to keep breath in aged, helpless persons who may be only technically alive? Who might decide whether or when to stop?

Is too much effort, some physicians wonder, being spent on adding a few years to adult life, as against preserving children and younger adults from grave health threats, or overcoming their physical or emotional handicaps?

And where is the money coming from for all the proposed programs for expanded health care, for training new health professionals, for improving hospitals, and paying salaries commensurate with those in other occupations?

Some say we cannot afford it all, or at least in a rush. Others believe we can, through insurance systems and tax funds, in a generally prosperous nation that ought to have good health for its citizens as one of its prime goals.

How shall it be done without diluting quality of medical care, or interference with the physician's best judgment for his patient?

Heart Care Essential

The clear trend, from these interviews, is toward better, more effective, more widespread medical care.

In the planning stage now — and a matter of some controversy — is establishment of a national network of regional centers for heart disease, cancer and strokes. It is intended to bring the best skills in diagnosis and treatment of these diseases to every physician and patient, region by region, to overcome the lag between discovery and application, to spur research, to train more health personnel and specialists.

Change is moving through hospitals. They are modernizing in more attractive and efficient design, and in adopting labor-saving techniques.

Automation in hospital laboratories is becoming well-advanced; computers are entering to reduce paper work, keep records, to speed the flow of information, even to aid in more careful administration of drugs to patients. More supplies are disposable, used but once, and there are more efficient methods of preparing and serving meals.

Improve Nursing Homes

Nursing homes, many of them understaffed and providing only minimal care, are expected to undergo vast improvement.

Physicians will have more assistance in keeping abreast of the flow of advancing medical knowledge — while keeping the responsibility to determine its value for their patients.

The American Medical Association, for example, is considering a national plan for continuing medical education. It is launching a pilot study soon, in Utah, partly to measure the individual postgraduate educational needs among doctors.

The harried medical student will find his courses changing and, some medical deans predict, being broadened into the life problems of his future patients.

Medical schools "must take on responsibility for segments of the population in their communities, for total care and preventive care," said Dr. Robert Ebert, Harvard Medical School dean.

Tamping tobacco into his pipe, Dean Ebert said: "We must have an eye and feeling for what the public needs, for that is the purpose of medicine."

To Launch Sub

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — One of the last two Polaris submarines to be built for the Navy will be launched April 23 at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

The craft, the Francis Scott Key, is the 40th in the Navy's projected fleet of 41 Polaris submarines. The last one will be the Will Rogers, scheduled for launching this summer.

First book printed in the English language was the translation of the book about Troy by William Saxton.

Lots of Variety In TV Schedules For Next Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There is considerable variety built into the network television schedules during the next seven days — the launching of two Gemini astronauts, two comedy specials and a Parisian dance program designed to convert viewers who don't like the ballet.

The dance program, starring Zizi Jeanmaire, pops up first tonight on NBC (7:30-8:30 EST). Danny Thomas' NBC special on Sunday (9-10 p.m.) will feature country and western music and his guest stars will include Kay Starr, Eddy Arnold and Pat Buttram.

Hope's monthly comedy special arrives on NBC Wednesday evening (9-10) along with guests Lee Marvin, Jonathan Winters and Phyllis Diller.

Teachers Give Sick Pay

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Teachers donated a total of 108 days of their own sick leave to fellow teacher Russel J. Ryan who is recovering from heart surgery.

networks will cover the launching of the Gemini Titan rocket on Wednesday, sending two men into space for a docking operation with an Agena rocket.

Other programs of special interest include an interview with Indian Premier Indira Gandhi on ABC's "Issues and Answers" on Sunday (1:30-2 p.m.) and a study of the work of the Synanon organization with narcotic addicts in prison on CBS' "20th Century" later that day (6-6:30). "CBS Reports" on Tuesday (10-11 p.m.) will be a study of credit in this country called "IOU $315,000,000,000."

Christ Science Notes Services

The true nature of "Substance" as defined first by Biblical prophets and later by Christ Jesus will be the lesson-subject in all Christian Science services this Sunday. Related passages from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, will complete the readings.

The story of Peter's healing of the lame man at the gate of the temple called Beautiful (Acts 3) will be presented to illustrate the theme that real substance is spiritual. Peter's response to the man's plea for alms was: "Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk." The account continues: "And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God."

Passages to be read from Science and Health include these lines: "When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error."

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Plan Family Supper At Shady Methodist

A family supper will be held at the Methodist Church of Shady annex Saturday, March 19, at 6:30 p. m.

The supper, open to all church members and friends, will be of the covered dish variety, followed by some short entertainment. Persons attending the supper are asked to bring their own place setting and plate, along with a covered dish. A free-will offering will be taken for the benefit of the church treasury.

Reservations for the supper should be made with members of the official board or by calling the president of the board, Miss Evelyn Stone of Shady.

Assembly Leader Coming for Fete

Brightening the March social scene will be the annual spring dinner of the Woodstock Democratic Club. Peter P. Grad, president of the club, announced this week that the active local political organizations plans one of the biggest dinners in its history Saturday, March 26, at Deanie's Restaurant.

Speaker for the full course roast beef dinner will be Assemblyman Jerome Kretschmer, one of the fastest rising young legislators in Albany. Kretschmer hails from New York City's Third Assembly District and was reelected during his last run by an overwhelming majority. He has been rapidly making a name for himself in Albany during the past few years and is known to be in line for bigger and better things. He has appeared twice in Woodstock before at Democratic Club functions, but this will mark his first appearance as a major dinner speaker.

Past dinners sponsored by the club have offered such national-known speakers as Arthur Levitt, Comptroller of the State of New York, who drew a full house; and Professor James MacGregor Burns, author of two best selling books on politics, who attracted so many prospective listeners that many had to be turned away.

As part of the upcoming affair, club members are planning a special printed program. Tickets to the event are available through members of the group.

Fire Drill Scheduled

Sunday at 9:30 a. m. is the date and time for the regular fire drill of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 of Lake Hill.

Active firemen are urged to meet at the firehouse in Lake Hill for this drill. The second drill of the month is scheduled for Wednesday, March 30 at 7 p. m.

The new portable generator for the fire company has arrived and been placed in service, according to an official of the company.

Cousins to Speak On Hawaiian Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cousins will present a program on their recent trip to Hawaii at a meeting Sunday, March 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the fellowship room of Woodstock's Dutch Reformed Church. The program is being sponsored by the Senior Christian Endeavor of the church and the public is invited.

Ann and Karl Cousins have already conducted programs on their trips to Korea and Japan at the church and the Hawaiian program, like the others, will offer some fine photography. They plan an account of their visit at the church of Bishop Akake, with some of the sounds of worship in that church. Bishop Akake, a prominent Christian leader of Hawaii, was one of the speakers at the International Christian Endeavor Convention attended by the local Senior Christian Endeavor in Dallas, Tex., last July.

Study Class Set For Methodists

Sermon topic for Sunday at Overlook Methodist Church, Woodstock, will be, Why Were They Disciples? A nursery is provided for infants and toddlers.

The pulpit rose last Sunday was given to Mr. and Mrs. George Acker of Whitney Drive, Woodstock, for Bradley Alan, born January 16.

The first session of the evening study class on "Acts—Then and Now" will be held at the parsonage at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday for all who wish to attend. Class will close at 9:30 p. m.

The second session of the afternoon study class on "Acts" will be held at the parsonage at 1 p. m. on Wednesday. A baby sitter will be provided at the church hall.

The women's prayer groups will be held as follows this week: 10 a. m. at the homes of Mrs. Sahler and Mrs. Williams, and 11 a. m. at the home of Miss Dietz.

Thursday, junior choir will rehearse at 6:45 p. m. and senior choir at 7:30 p. m.

A men's prayer breakfast will be held at 7 a. m. in the church hall Saturday. Any men in the church are welcome to attend.

Sunday school at Overlook Church is held in two sessions. Beginners through first grade meet at 11 a. m. and second grade through adults have classes at 9:45 a. m.

Reformed Church Lists Calendar

The Dutch Reformed Church, Village Green, Woodstock, has released the following calendar of services and events for the coming week:

Sermon topic at 11 a. m. divine worship Sunday is, Target of the Gospel. Sunday school convenes at 9:15 a. m. with classes for all age groups. A nursery for the care of small children is held during morning worship. Families attending services as a unit will find a junior sermon on the agenda for children. Senior Christian Endeavor will entertain the young people of Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock, at a meeting Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Other events listed include: Monday — 7 p. m., Poy Scouts. Wednesday — 3:30 p. m., Brownies; 6:45 p. m., Church Bowling League.

Thursday — 7 p. m., Junior Choir; 8 p. m., Senior Choir. Friday — 7 p. m., Junior Christian Endeavor.

Senior Citizens Meet
Senior Citizens Meet — headed by Slides will be shown by the Rev. William R. Peckham at the monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of Woodstock this Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Overlook Methodist Church Hall. Any man or woman over 60 years of age is welcome to join the group.

Boy, 4, Drowns
BRIDGEPORT, N. Y. (AP) — Four-year-old Josh Ackerman was drowned Thursday after he fell through thin ice on Oneida Lake near his home.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ackerman.

AT JEWISH FUND KICK OFF—Plans for the 1966 United Jewish Welfare Fund campaign are discussed at kick off meeting this week by (l-r) Alfred Horowitz, general chairman; Herman J. Eaton, CLU, chairman of the campaign cabinet; the Rev. John Stanley Grauel, guest speaker; and Arthur P. Motzkin, co-chairman of the initial gifts division and host for the evening.

Minister Tells Israeli Story At Fund Meeting

A "living legend" of the European underground, a member of the Haganah (Jewish self-defense organization), a crew member of the ill-fated refugee ship Exodus, only partially describes the Rev. John Stanley Grauel, guest speaker at the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund's 1966 kick-off meeting earlier this week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Motzkin.

The Rev. Mr. Grauel, a Protestant minister, resigned his pulpit early in World War II as the result of the reports of Nazi persecutions of the Jewish people. Joining the American Christian Palestine Committee in an effort to assist with the establishment of the State of Israel, the reverend became known as a mysterious underground figure referred to only as "John the Priest."

His appearance in Kingston marked 25 years of association with Jewish life in America and Israel for the Rev. Mr. Grauel. In speaking of prejudice in this country today, the speaker cautioned all Americans to be alert, and not to allow any totalitarian regime to capture the country. He recalled that in addition to six million Jews exterminated in Hitler's concentration camps that over two thousand priests, ministers and nuns had also perished there. The Rev. Mr. Grauel also had high praise for the Bulgarian Roman Catholic Bishop who saved countless Jewish children from capture and extermination by the Nazis through the use of his office as a camouflage. This bishop, he said, was later Pope John XXIII.

The Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund is the annual campaign for funds in this area for social service, recreation, immigration, rescue, and resettlement efforts in the local area, the nation and overseas. Alfred Horowitz is the general chairman.

Check Grass Fires

Grass fires, a harbinger of spring, were reported in the Milon and Modena fire districts on Thursday. Mutual Aid headquarters also reported a shack fire in the West Hurley Fire District and a car fire in Woodstock.

Local Police Push Two Downtown Probes

Local police today continued probe of a burglary at the West End Brewing Co., (Utica Club) warehouse, 12 Chambers Street, and of malicious damage in the Tucker's Live Poultry Market building, East Strand.

Two cases of ale were reported taken from the Chambers Street warehouse, which had been entered several times in recent months. Entrance was gained through the same side window, which had been broken in the other thefts.

The poultry market building was damaged in an attic area. Police reported several doors broken, but nothing missing. The building is due to be acquired by the Urban Renewal Agency.

Some Banks Up Business Loan Interest Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Many major banks across the nation are raising the minimum interest rate on short-term business loans from 5 to 5½ per cent, an Associated Press survey shows.

It is the second rise in the prime interest rate in three months. Last Dec. 6 the rate increased from 4½ to 5 per cent. Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York was the first to increase its rate Thursday. Word quickly spread through financial circles and within hours banks in widely scattered parts of the country announced similar increases.

"Because of the continuing heavy demand for credit, we are raising our minimum rate to 5½ per cent, effective immediately," said D.C. Sutherland of the Bank of America in San Francisco. The bank is the world's largest.

The stock market, which had been rallying strongly, declined sharply and prices closed slightly lower Thursday.

Although the interest rate boost is for business firms, its effect will be felt widely. It will mean a higher cost of doing business, which will be passed on to the customer.

Witnesses Say Leary Is of Good Character

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Defense witnesses say they know a former Harvard University professor charged with marijuana violations as a man of good character, but a government witness says he met the man at a Greenwich Village marijuana party.

Dr. Timothy Leary, a former psychology professor at Harvard who says he does research on exotic drugs, and his daughter, Susan, 18, are on trial for three federal counts of marijuana law violations.

Dr. Ralph Metzger of New York City testified that he and Leary co-authored scientific treatises and books on the use of marijuana and other "conscious-expanding drugs."

Fred Swayne of New York, who said he is an American Hindu monk, testified that he enlisted both Metzger and Leary into the Hindu religion and instructed them in the use of marijuana for religious rites.

But Raymond Cutler, 31, who gave no occupation, said he met Leary in a Greenwich Village "marijuana party" that was "just a social gathering" having "no connection with science or religion."

The government charges that marijuana was discovered on Miss Leary when she was searched as she and her father crossed into Texas from Mexico.

Leary said in court that the marijuana taken from his daughter and swept up from his car "was mine and I was solely responsible for it."

Dreamed of Death

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — Gently, Lawrence Lyden awakened his daughter, Lois, 18.

She looked up at her father, and before he uttered a word, she said: "I know, dad. Dennis is dead. I just dreamed about it."

Word of the death of Dennis, 20, in action in Viet Nam had reached the Lyden home only moments before.

When Dennis fell Saturday, it was the second time he had been wounded. The last time he recovered and returned to the fighting lines. He was one of eight Lyden children.

U.S. Judgeships Need Increases, Plans Studied

By JOSEPH E. MOHAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today's high-powered society threatens to run away from the creaking machinery of the federal judicial system. It faces a "legal explosion."

In an attempt to meet the problem, Congress approved this week a bill to create 43 new federal judgeships in those states and appellate circuits where case backlogs have risen nearly out of sight.

The change, if approved as expected by President Johnson, will depart from tradition in at least one way by overstepping the unwritten nine-judge limit on Courts of Appeals. It will add four temporary seats to the South's 5th Circuit, where civil rights litigation has soared in recent years.

Cite Need for Reform

But in the eyes of some of the federal judiciary's keenest observers — including some of its judges — further departure and greater reform are urgently needed. The federal courts, in their view, must be made responsive to modern times if they are to cope with the mounting litigation to be expected in a nation whose population — now 194 million — has been projected to 437 million by the year 2010.

An increase in judges, alone, is widely regarded as a shortsighted approach to a broad problem. Little headway has been made against case backlogs since 73 new judgeships were created in 1961. Some of these judgeships have not been filled.

Less than a year ago, Chief Justice Earl Warren cautioned, "We cannot afford to go on pyramiding judgeships periodically without making our judicial system responsive to and part of the times in which we live."

The burden of the lower federal courts also has snowballed.

Old Age Factor

Whether manpower or faulty organization is at fault, the federal courts have been unable to keep up with the mounting volume of judicial business. And one frequent target for criticism has been the practice of elderly judges to remain on the job. For most of these, old age brings a necessary slowdown.

Federal judges, under the Constitution, serve during their good behavior — which usually means for life.

Since the vast majority of federal judgeships are the capstones to long and distinguished legal careers, few federal judges are young men.

The Justice Department urged Congress, in considering the increase in judgeships, to undertake simultaneous reforms to insure that vigorous, fully competent judges are handling the mounting court workload. It suggested that judges automatically become "senior judges" at 70, opening the way for appointment to younger men to the court, but allowing an older judge to continue to assist in its work.

Plan Under Study

Congress ignored the suggestion, although a Senate subcommittee is studying the problem of removing incompetent judges.

Proposals have been heard to revise judicial procedures to eliminate duplication and cut down the number of hours a judge must spend poring over details that someone lower down could process.

All of these proposals have been aimed at making the courts more responsive to a fast-moving, fast-growing society.

Dies in Gotham Crash

NEW YORK (AP) — John Kascasak, 62, was killed early today when his car collided head-on with another auto on the Harlem River Drive at 128th Street, police reported.

Police said Kascasak, of Woodcliff Lake, N.J., was driving north when a southbound car operated by Raul Collazo, 31, of the Bronx, struck him.

Kascasak lived at 23 Wiermus Lane, Woodcliff Lake.

RAY KORNBREK KNOWS THIS BETTER THAN ANYONE!!

Last year Ray and his family decided to buy a swimming pool. They had long dreamed of having their own pool in their own back yard where they and their friends could spend long, lazy summer hours.

Ray and his wife studied every advertisement, compared all costs, investigated every company and after much consideration decided on a "SKYLARK" pool.

They watched the workmen construct their pool, step-by-step; saw the great skill of the craftsmen, the fine quality of the materials and knew they had made a wise choice. On the day the Kornbreks filled their pool, Ray had reached a decision. He had decided to quit his job of 18 years and become a SKYLARK representative.

As an owner of a SKYLARK pool, Ray knew that he could honestly tell other families of the great pleasure they, too, could enjoy if they had a SKYLARK pool; that he could sincerely recommend SKYLARK builders for their competence and integrity.

Mrs. Kornbrek was equally as enthusiastic about Ray's decision and has become a valuable assistant to him in his new work.

AN interesting sidelight to all this is that SKYLARK didn't ask Ray to be a representative for them, Ray asked SKYLARK, and of course they welcomed him eagerly; a satisfied client is the best possible salesman.

SKYLARK is proud to announce that Mr. Ray Kornbrek is now your area representative and will be very glad to show you the way to a life-time of family fun. After all, who knows better than the man who also found a life-time career.

CS Lists Exams For Police Jobs

Kingston's Municipal Civil Service Commission has issued notice that examinations are scheduled for May 21 to establish eligibility lists for promotions to the ranks of sergeant and lieutenant, when vacancies occur.

Chief Robert F. Murphy said no vacancies exist in the two ranks, but the lists will be established, after the examination, for future use.

Ten men took an examination Feb. 19 to establish a list for appointment of patrolmen. The chief noted in his recent annual report that eight men had resigned in 1965 and one retired. Depletion of the force, which has a normal complement of 61 men, was lessened slightly by appointment of three men on a provisional basis, and two of these have since received permanent appointment.

Dear Abby . . .

Talk Girl Out of Marriage

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a pretty little 19-year-old farm-reared girl considering marriage to a 44-year-old city man who was recently divorced and given the custody of his three problem sons?

The boys are 17, 15, and 13. The two older boys have been in trouble with the law and are on probation. This man is trying to rust the girl into a decision because he can't get a housekeeper for those delinquent kids of his. She is a sweet, church-going girl, Abby, but very easily talked-into things.

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A pretty little 19-year-old farm-reared girl needs a 44-year-old man with three delinquent sons like Custer needed another Indian. If she's your friend, and "easily talked-into things," try to talk her into forgetting him.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband goes to kiss me, I push him away, too. But not for the same reason "LOVE-STARVED'S" wife pushes HIM away. My husband has the roughest beard this side of the Yukon.

If I let him smooch me in the evening, my poor face is like raw hamburger the next morning. How do you make love to a porcupine?

SHIRLEY

DEAR SHIRLEY: Very carefully.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of eight lovely children. The baby is 1 month old today. For the past 10 years I have worked the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift. (I'm a nurse.) My mother, God bless her, cares for my children. My husband is very unreliable. He is a club joiner and is always on the go.

During my last pregnancy, I had to drive myself to the hospital because my mother couldn't leave the children and my husband was playing bridge at the Legion with his pals. He thinks it's easy for me to work all night and lose sleep trying to be both mother and dad in the day time.

I'd quit my job but he never gives me any money and I'm afraid he wouldn't make the house payments. My father warned me about his laziness, but I thought I was lucky to get such a handsome man and good dancer. Now what?

TIED

DEAR TIED: If it took you eight children to realize you picked a lemon, you are slower than most women. Some men will never walk as long as they have a crutch. STAY HOME, and let your husband support you. (He might like it.) If he really is lazy and an inadequate provider, be grateful for your nursing education, because you might have to go on supporting yourself for a long, long time.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for the kind words about mobile homes. Some people still call them "trailers." Many of our friends admitted that before they came to visit us, they thought we were living in some old abandoned boxcar on the outskirts of town. Once they see our beautifully furnished two-bedroom mobile home, complete with kitchen and baths, they change their minds.

Nash Quitting Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philco Nash, Indian Commissioner, says he will resign effective March 15.

Nash's letter of resignation was made public Thursday.

Informed sources say Nash will be succeeded by Robert L. Bennett, an Oneida Indian.

Bennett, who has served more than 30 years with the bureau, currently is deputy commissioner.

NAACP to Meet On Monday Night

The regular meeting of the Ulster County Branch NAACP will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the New Central Baptist Church, 229 East Strand Street.

Thomas Allen, regional representative of the New England and New York Area, will be guest. Urban Renewal and relocation will highlight the agenda.

Plans will be made to conduct a survey to determine the needs of the people as it relates to urban renewal. Much misinformation relative to the urban renewal program has been disseminated throughout the community, a NAACP spokesman asserted in releasing news of Monday's meeting.

An invitation has been extended to all organizations and interested persons to attend the meeting.

Permits Needed For Stream Work

Persons planning to build docks and dams or do work in the streams of navigable waters of the state should review provisions of the new Stream Protection Law which became effective Jan. 1.

Warren H. McKeon, Regional Supervisor of Region 8, said the intent of the new statute is to permit necessary construction while safeguarding the environment, health, safety and welfare of the people of New York.

The three major areas of jurisdiction under the new law include control over the disturbing of certain streams, dredging and filling navigable waters and the construction and maintenance of dams and docks. Persons planning to do work in any of these areas must obtain a permit from the Water Resources Commission.

Copies of the rules and regulations relating to permit application forms and procedures under the Stream Protection Law are available through the Water Resources Commission at Albany or at the regional office of the Conservation Department, 105 Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie.

The British, once responsible for half of the slave trading in the world, abolished the practice by legislation in 1833.

Plans Competitive Test for Postmaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., proposes that postmasters be chosen by competitive examinations administered by the Civil Service.

Resnick said Thursday that this change was "so badly needed and overdue" that "I have decided to put it into effect immediately in my Congressional district."

The legislator from Ellenville said his plan would provide for a competitive test under provisions of the Civil Service Act and would be mandatory for the postmaster general to recommend appointment of the person at the top of the eligible list.

The same procedure would apply to the appointment of rural mail carriers, Resnick said.

Now, applicants for a postmastership must take examinations but a congressman does not have to select the top candidate.

Wife Held in Killing

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 37-year-old woman has been charged with second-degree murder in the stabbing of her husband.

Mrs. Emily Bogaslauski was arrested Thursday after her husband of three months, Francis, 45, died in Genesee Hospital.

Police said Bogaslauski was wounded by a breadknife during what was described as a family argument in the kitchen of his home.

The couple lived at 209 Davis St.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

RISING LIVING COSTS

BABSON PARK, Mass. Lots of people are nervous about price inflation, and we don't blame them. Naturally, it does make a housewife fidgety to find out how much less her dollar can buy today than it could a year ago. And the breadwinner himself — while his income is probably moving up somewhat — notices how much more he has to pay for household goods and services to maintain a decent standard of living.

No End in Sight

To speak very frankly, the "creeping" price inflation that has been going on for so many years shows absolutely no signs of reversing itself. Consumer prices for December chalked up their sharpest advance for the month of report in fifteen years. Goods and services for January cost 2 per cent more than they did, on average, only twelve months ago; and this is no small fractional nudge.

The base period used by the Labor Department is 1957-1958. If a typical city family measured what it was able to buy for $10 during that base period, it would find the same purchases now costing $11.10. Another way of looking at it: For the five years 1960-1964, the average annual increase of consumer prices was 1.3 per cent. But during 1965 the figure pushed ahead to 1.7 per cent. While the difference may seem small, the important fact is that despite a pause in January, the upward trend is still strong — and the upside pressures are increasing.

Even Government Is Wary

Although the White House is eager to hold prices in check so they will not explode into runaway inflation, there is only tentative official optimism about the future. The Labor Department has come right out and admitted that consumer prices likely to increase even more in 1966 than they did in 1965. There is not really too much encouragement in the cautious prediction that the rate of gain is going to advance more in 1966, "but not much more". There is, of course, no way of telling when an inflationary blow-off might suddenly dislocate our basic economy. If such a thing should happen, the inevitable result would be violent deflation.

Probably the greatest danger lies in the possible emergence of a speculative psychology, the sort of thing that happened in the first year of the Korean War. Fortunately, there are vast differences between that time and the present. When the trouble broke out in Korea, our plant capacity was pitifully inadequate to produce the needed volume of both guns and butter. The result was a real buyers' rush for goods that drove the consumer price index up a spectacular 9 per cent within twelve months.

Voluntary Restraints Or Compulsory?

Currently, our production of both military and civilian goods is miles ahead of any other in our history. In fact, it is not far from capacity. Hence, it is to be hoped that speculative consumer buying will not be so frenzied that it will drive prices radically higher. Labor Department experts do expect to see greatest concentration of price gains this year in those items that led the list in 1965: Food, shoes, medical attention, transportation, home maintenance, auto insurance, gasoline, and tobacco products, which make up a big part of the home budget. The administration continues to plead for voluntary restraints on both prices and wages. Consumers and manufacturers are asked to avoid piling up top-heavy inventories that might tilt the appercept. It is obvious that many of the governments economic advisers would truly like to avoid compulsory curbs on prices and pay rates. Chances are they may be able to avoid them unless some huge escalation of the Viet Nam struggle darkens the picture. If it does, controls will be tried.

Important Item Omitted

But, while government officials hammer away at the necessity of avoiding price and wage increases, they seem to forget that their own actions compound the problem. The price of government at all levels is soaring year by year. So why not include the price of political administration in the Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index?

State Issues Ruling on U. S. Funds, Schools

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—School boards that use federal funds to buy teaching aids are not in violation of an article in the State Constitution that forbids using public money for parochial schools, says the State Attorney General's office.

That opinion was issued Thursday after a decision this week by the Lewiston - Porter Board of Education not to seek $8,100 in federal money to buy books and visual-aids.

The board noted that the state prohibits the use of public funds for schools or institutions "wholly or in part under the control...of any religious denomination."

There are some plays that an expert makes automatically, a good player makes after study and most players make by accident, if at all.

Six no-trump is a reasonable contract but the correct play of the South hand is the same whether you are in six no-trump.

seven no-trump or one no-trump. Furthermore, if you play the hand correctly you will make all 13 tricks due to the fact that East holds the king of hearts and the king and jack of diamonds and that the clubs break three-two.

You need as many entries to dummy as possible and the key play comes at trick two when you must lead either the eight or nine of clubs to dummy's queen or jack. Don't be careless and lead the deuce of clubs! Don't be smart and win the first club with dummies ace.

Now you lead a red card and finesse. You should try the hearts first because you have only one finesse there.

It works and you go back to dummy by leading your remaining intermediate club to dummies queen or jack. Then you repeat the heart finesse and go back to dummy again by leading the king of clubs and overtaking with the ace. You can afford this extravagance since both opponents followed to the second club.

Now you lead a diamond and because you still have an entry to dummy you finesse the ten. This holds so you enter dummy for the fourth and last time with the four of clubs, and finesse the queen of diamonds, smile happily and may even say: "Partner, why don't you bid these laydown grand slams!"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

An interesting book at the Kingston Library is called The Story of Mr. Circus by Charles T. Hunt Sr., as told to John C. Cloutman, copyright 1954 by The Record Press, Rochester, N. H.

For instance he tells in this book how during the Hunt's Circus Show in Kingston on June 21 and 22, 1953, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk was invited on the stage to surprise and present Mr. Hunt with a key to Kingston and a citation for having his own show for some 61 years.

Charles T. Hunt Sr. was born Aug. 7, 1873 in Kingston, the son of John and Jane McCool Hunt. He went to local schools and completed high school in three years. He tells about his father, who ran a hotel and livery in Kingston, but that he wished his son, Charles, to become a lawyer, and placed him in the law office of Judge J. C. Schoonmaker. "For nine months, I helped 'J. C.' as he was known, as clerk and office boy and in my spare time devoted myself, much against my will, to the study of the foundations of law. In after years I was very grateful for this brief insight into law, for as a result, in many cases when I encountered little technicalities in laws and local ordinances I found that I could hold my own with the average lawyer which made it unnecessary for me to hire attorneys."

During this time he went out with several girls. No doubt mothers were proud that in time he might be a lawyer, but his thoughts were always with the circus. He finally went steady with Carrie Grace Tronson of Rondout, but then her parents knew of his interest in circus life and were so against the match that they wanted to send Carrie to their relatives in London for a visit. His people liked Carrie very much. "Finally the young couple won her mother's consent and were married Nov. 9, 1902 at the Tronson home."

The Hunts lived happily and traveled together for over 35 years until she died February 13, 1948. They had four children, a daughter Charlotte and three sons, Charles Jr., Harry T. and Edward. The whole family stayed together and put on circus performances through the years.

He writes also about the Rivers family, well known circus performers of their day, who had a ring barn on Hurley Avenue in Kingston. Charlie Hunt was the only kid allowed on the place and so he was taught and learned the circus tricks. At the age of 16 in the summer of 1889, he took a 12-week's trip with the Rivers family on the Barnum and Bailey circus route. It was during that time, that Jim Bailey, of the early circus men, placed his hand on Charlie's head and said, "Kid, some day you're going to own a circus. You want to learn it all at once." He tells about the circus when it moved from town to town on canal boats, one called the Gallagher and Downie Circus.

Charlie Hunt's father used to supply the livery (horses and vehicles) for the mountain hotels in the Catskills and in 1891 Charles was put in charge of the livery at the Overlook Mountain House. In the winter he performed his acts at beer gardens. His father was satisfied with the arrangement but Charlie wanted to put his own show on the road instead. He started with four horses and two wagons which his father loaned him and a rented tent. There were six in the outfit. That was the beginning of the Hunt show on the road which went on for 61 years and used to come regularly to Kingston.

It is an entertaining book of the old time circus days. My interest in this book was solely because of the American Circus nickel stamp coming out May 2, at Delavan, Wisc. so I was surprised to read about a Kingston boy who had his own circus and also wrote a book about it.

Injunction Orders

Halt in Slowdown

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — About 600 maintenance workers at the Mohawk Airlines plant near here are under a temporary injunction to halt what the company terms a "slowdown and refusal of overtime."

Judge Stephen W. Brennan of U.S. District Court granted the order Wednesday against Local 75, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO.

Brennan said the union has until March 18 to show cause why the order should not be made permanent.

The company contends the work slowdown is designed to pressure the company into acting on five grievances filed by the union.

START COOKIE SALE—Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk, long time ardent supporter of The Ulster County Council Of Girl Scouts and Camp Wendy in particular, indicates his continued support by being the first in the Kingston area of the council to order Girl Scout cookies from Marie and Patty Sande of Troop 35, left, and Nancy Schlegel of Troop 60. Mrs. Harry Cornwell, camp committee chairman, is at right. Postmaster Newkirk was a former member of the board of directors and recipient of the Girl Scouts "Thanks Badge," awarded only to one person in a council each year, in appreciation for his many services to Girl Scouting in Ulster County. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Annual Scout Sale Starts Saturday, Provides Funds

The annual Cookie Sale of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts will start officially Saturday at 9 a. m. Girl Scouts all over the County will be out in uniform asking for orders as a service project to their council.

The primary purpose of this once-a-year sale is for the improvement and development of Camp Wendy and other sites for outdoor program. In addition, cookie sale profits are used for program services, wider opportunities including campership, and for troop program.

Some 751 Scouts participated in day trips, 937 girls went weekend camping, and 300 girls enjoyed days of resident camp this year. Adults, too, made use of the camp with family work-days, outdoor workshops, come-and-see tours and training events. The camp staff held a pre-camp training session and a post-camp report and clean-up session. The camp is open for weekend camping and day trips from April 1 through October and is also available in late summer for troop camping. All of these camping experiences are possible at a very modest fee because of the funds realized through the combined efforts of all the scout cookie salesmen.

The expenses paid for by the sale included in the past such things as the new dining hall, a new swimming dock and remodeling into a boat dock of the old swim dock. A new "Wishing Bridge" at the upper end of the lake, two new outdoor dining areas, new tents and tent platforms, changing the entrance to camp as a safety feature for the Scouts at lake front have been made possible through the cookie sale.

The council is growing constantly, and so is the need for expanded facilities at the camp. A successful cookie sale can help in many ways for both troop camping and summer camp.

Cookies will be delivered in mid-April.

Teachers Corps In Crisis State, Requires Money

By GEOFFREY GOULD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's new National Teacher Corps is rapidly approaching a crisis stage — it needs thousands of applications right now, but it can't sign teachers up until it gets operating money from Congress.

Officials of the U. S. Office of Education are working virtually around the clock to line up potential corpsmen and women, set up summer training courses at universities, and find school districts where the corps is needed.

To Start in Fall

"We're going to get this show on the road next fall unless Congress says no," vowed a Teacher Corps spokesman in an interview.

But others have privately expressed foreboding that the new program will not get off the ground by next fall as the President had intended.

There is no sign of serious opposition in Congress, but it still holds the vital purse string. About $13.2 million is needed for the rest of fiscal year 1966, and $31 million for fiscal 1967, which starts July 1. Congress may act this month.

To Improve Quality

The Teacher Corps, in President Johnson's words, is to "improve the quality of teaching where quality is most needed and in short supply — in the city slums and areas of rural poverty."

For next fall a goal of 3,750 corpsmen has been set, a fourth to be experienced teachers and the rest to be interns or teacher trainees just out of college.

The problem is that experienced teachers are now and in the next six weeks considering signing contracts in their local districts for the school year that begins in September. School boards are completing their budget plans.

Until Congress Acts, the Teacher Corps can't make valid contracts with teachers or interns. In lieu of that, they have widely distributed "preliminary applications," in which potential corpsmen can at least let their interest be known.

The educated guess is that only one out of five applications will be accepted.

Employee of Thruway Here Wins Cash Award

A Kingston man who helps maintain the 559-mile New York State Thruway won $50 for an idea submitted under the Thruway Authority's Employee Suggestion Program, according to an announcement today in Albany. Authority Chairman R. Burdell Bixby said that the award was made to James F. Fitzpatrick, of 135 Glen Street, who is an automotive mechanic in the Kingston Maintenance Section.

Fitzpatrick's suggestion would reduce the maneuvering needed to line up maintenance trucks with snowplows being attached, Bixby said. He said that the Kingston crewman suggested fastening steel plates to the plow-mounting assembly on the front of the trucks.

The Employee Suggestion Board estimated that adoption of Fitzpatrick's suggestion would save the authority $450 a year in labor costs. Cash awards are figured at approximately 10 percent of the savings for one year, the authority chairman said.

FBI Seizes 2 Men, Wanted in Abduction

WEST NEW YORK, N.J. — Two men wanted by Cliffside Park police for abduction of a 16-year-old Yonkers, N.Y., boy were arrested late Thursday night by FBI agents on stolen-car charges.

The suspects were identified as Dennis Anthony Callaway, 21, and Cal Ronald De Vyver, 30, who had an automatic pistol on his person when arrested.

Callaway, originally from Weehawken, is an escapee from Toronto, and De Vyver, who is from the Astoria section of Queens, New York City, had absconded from Toronto while free on bail, the FBI said.

In addition to charges pending in the Canadian city, both men are wanted by Cliffside Park authorities.

Police in Cliffside Park said today they had issued a warrant for their arrest on a charge of abduction. The charge involves the Yonkers youth who told police last Sunday he had hitched a ride with the men in New York City three weeks earlier.

Mandau-Little Wedding Is Announced

MRS. RICHARD JOHN LITTLE (Photo Workshop)

Miss Hannelore Melita Mandau, daughter of Mrs. Edith Mandau of 75 Henry Street, this city, exchanged marriage vows with Richard John Little, son of Alida C. Little of 34 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, on March 5, 1966 at 2 p. m. in the Old Dutch Church, this city. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Arthur Oudemool.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her uncle Arnold Rymkevich of Kingston, the bride wore a lace and peau de soie sheath type bridal gown with wattleau train outlined with lace appliques. Her veil was of silk illusion and she carried white roses with gladioli.

Miss JoAnn Stratton of Kingston was maid of honor in a valentine-red lace and peau sheath type gown with full overskirt. A rose cap held a short veil and she carried white carnations.

Jeri-Ann Little, the bride's niece, was a junior bridesmaid. She wore a blue dotted swiss over taffeta gown with a halo of flowers in her hair. She carried a miniature bouquet of white carnations. Serving as flower girl was Jeannine Stratton who also wore blue dotted swiss with a halo of flowers in her hair. She carried miniature white carnations.

James T. Little of Poughkeepsie was best man for his brother. Ushering were Frank T. Suppess Jr., Kingston, a cousin; and Richard C. Smith of Kingston.

Q: Last evening I attended a card party at our church. The admission was two dollars; the proceeds of which went into a building fund for a new school. On each table there was a paper plate filled with assorted candies. When the card party was over, I emptied what remained of the candy on our table into a paper napkin and put it in my bag to take home to my children. My sister criticized me for doing this and said I showed very bad manners. I would like to know what you think about this.

A: Had you done this in someone's house, it would indeed have been very bad manners. But at a public card party, I can't see that you committed a serious offense by taking a few left-over pieces of candy for your children.

Serving Hors D'oeuvres

Q: At a cocktail party where there is no maid to pass around the hors d'oeuvres to the guests, does the hostess do this or are the guests expected to help themselves?

A: The hostess passes the trays of hors d'oeuvres once or twice, often with a close friend helping her, and then leaves the food in a conspicuous spot (on a hot plate or in a chafing dish if the hors d'oeuvres are hot) and the guests help themselves.

Ulster BPW Club Membership Will Host District 3

Plans for hosting a district conference of the New York State Business and Professional Women's Club were discussed at a meeting of the Ulster County chapter Tuesday night, March 8, in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Named co-chairmen of the April 23rd meeting by Beverly Reese, president, were Mrs. Chris Gallop and Mrs. Rosemary Denter. Mrs. Mary Fisher will serve as registrar for the more than 125 women who are expected to attend and Mrs. Vera Bishop will be chairman of hospitality.

Delegates to the district meeting will convene at 9:30 a. m. at Deane's Restaurant in Woodstock. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. The areas of Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Latham, Hudson, Cobleskill, Catskill, Newburgh and Ulster County will be represented.

Mrs. Virginia Neher reported on a series of proposed career seminars which will highlight numerous areas of interest to women. As chairman of the Personal Development Committee for the Ulster County BPW, Mrs. Neher announced these seminars will aid the woman already on the job and those planning to re-enter the professional fields. Details will be announced.

Mrs. Eleanor Wuest discussed the organization of a BPW Speakers' Bureau services of which would be available to local organizations, and a report from the BPW Committee on Narcotics was made by Charlotte McGraw and Dorothy A. Narel.

Plans for a permanent Ulster County BPW headquarters were discussed and details will be announced.

Nominating Committee
A new slate of officers for the fiscal year beginning in May, 1966 will be presented at the April 12th meeting of the club. Elected to a nominating committee were the following: Hilda Krum, chairman; Vera Bishop, Reta Frederick, Margaret McCordie and Mary Polhemus. Election and installation of new officers will take place at the May meeting. State and national officers are expected to attend.

TABLE FOR NURSES' RESIDENCE — Evelyn Napier Morse was born in Boston in 1913. She was administrator of the Kingston Hospital and until 1956 she was science instructor for the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing. After a long illness, Evelyn Morse died in 1959 but a table which she designed and constructed in an Adult Education class at Kingston High School, was donated to the Nurses' Residence here. At the time of Miss Morse's death, the table was unfinished. The students in the Industrial Arts woodworking class applied the finish and this week, Raphael Klein made the presentation. Accepting the lovely piece of furniture are (l-r) Miss Rosemary Pelligrino, director of nurses; and Mrs. Elsie Kent, president of the Nurses Alumnae Association. (Freeman photo by Wagenfahne)

Choir Mothers Guild Lists Activities Recital Is Planned

Several upcoming events were discussed at the regular March meeting of the Choir Mothers Guild of the Old Dutch Church held this week. The covered dish supper and open house, postponed from February because of bad weather, will be held on Wednesday, April 20 at 6:30 p. m. All women members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the recital music of Mrs. Margaret Danford Roosa, contralto, who will be accompanied by the piano and organ by the minister of music of the church, Gordon Bush. Officers of the Choir Mothers Guild will serve as hostesses.

A hostess event scheduled by the Choir Mothers will be the annual spring rummage sale to be held on Thursday, May 19 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Plans for this event are in charge of Mrs. Parran Gates, co-president of Choir Mothers. Everyone is urged to contribute and participate in this affair; since the proceeds will be used to purchase new choir robes for the Primary-Church Choir in the fall.

Bush in making his report, announced re-organization of the Bell Choir, which begins rehearsals this week on Wednesday evening. This group is to make its first appearance at the worship service on Easter Sunday. Both adults and children are being accepted in this choir.

In other business presided over by the co-president, Mrs. Warren Simmons, officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Fred Burnett, president; Mrs. Benjamin Storms, vice-president; Mrs. Neil Ryder, secretary and Mrs. Jacob Ennis, treasurer. They will take office in September.

Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Simmons displayed new curtains purchased by the Choir Mothers for the newly redecorated choir room.

Refreshments, in the St. Patrick's Day theme were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Oscar Kirkpatrick and John Hill.

Miss Linda Jean Southard of Broomfield, Colo., and Donald Lee Boden, of Boulder, Colo., were married on Saturday, Feb. 26, 1966. The wedding ceremony took place in the First Church of Nazarene, Boulder, Colo., with the Rev. Mr. Wright officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southard of Broomfield, Colo., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Boden of Boulder, Colo.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, is a graduate of Kingston High

To every woman who looks older than she feels...

Jacqueline Cochran offers a week's free* supply of

the hydrophilic beauty formula for aging, dehydrated skin

Even before a woman reaches thirty, she may feel younger than she looks. Tiny lines and wrinkles start to form that can catch themselves deeper with every passing year. Your skin, robbed of its moisture, loses its firmness and smoothness like an apple drying up in the bin.

What can you do to help your skin retain youthful moisture? Chemists at Jacqueline Cochran have discovered a special moisture-giving ingredient called Hydrolin. Blended it with rich creams, lotions and facial oils to bring you Flowing Velvet, a greaseless beauty formula that flows on as gently as a caress...sinks in almost before you know it.

The moment it touches your skin you can feel Flowing Velvet start to act. Soothing, smoothing. Lending a dewy freshness to your parched complexion. What you feel is living proof of what is happening underneath. Because the moisture in Hydrolin flows deeply into your skin. Precious beauty oils lubricate the surface. Flowing Velvet's exclusive formula maintains the balance between oil and moisture so the essential to younger looking skin.

Use Flowing Velvet at night...and all day under make-up. Because Flowing Velvet disappears so quickly into your skin it can't leave greasy traces on your pillow. Forms the perfect surface for make-up to cling. Works while you sleep...works all day, gently supplying moisture to your thirsty complexion.

If you've watched helplessly as your skin started drying up, growing old, try Flowing Velvet. 2oz. 3.50 4oz. 5.75 8oz. 9.50 16oz. 16.50

*FREE OFFER: Jacqueline Cochran is so confident that Flowing Velvet can bring your skin immediate benefits that we would like you to try a week's supply at no cost to you. Come in and ask the Jacqueline Cochran representative for your free trial size. Offer limited to one week.

Civic Group Strives To Keep Citizenry Informed on Issues

The membership of the West Hurley Civic Association will receive in the mail a study of the Ontario Central School Bond Issue to be made by the Education Committee of the organization by March 17. Robert C. Pettie is chairman of the committee.

Decision to make this study was made at a recent board meeting in keeping with the association's desire to have a well informed citizenry. Pros and cons regarding the bond issue will be discussed. Although the association takes no official stand regarding this issue, the public is encouraged to learn about all aspects of the bond issue. Association members listened to representatives from the Ontario Central School System speak about the issue at the February general meeting.

W. Jack Kahn, chairman of the Town Affairs Committee, has been asked to prepare an information sheet containing all known schedules of meetings of the Town Board, School Board, Planning Board, and other local boards. All paid members of the Association will receive these information sheets.

Also on the association's agenda is a study of insect control. Walter L. Rose will conduct the preliminary investigations. The gypsy moth problem and the may fly and mosquito problem will be looked into separately. The New York State Conservation Department is being contacted for more information regarding the gypsy moths. Area representatives are taking surveys to estimate the extent of interest in spraying.

Present at the board meeting were Robert K. Kohler, president; Rose, Hubert Miller, Mrs. Reuben Rabb, Walter Rhodes, Dr. J. Robert Wood, and Robert Bedell.

Sorosis Hears Book Review

Members of Sorosis met Monday morning March 7th in the home of Mrs. Arthur Eymann. The meeting opened with Miss Helen Turner in charge of devotions.

The program chairman, Mrs. John Frensen, introduced Mrs. William Markle, supervisor of the children's section of Kingston City Library, and a member of Sorosis. Mrs. Markle reviewed the book "The Real Personages of Mother Goose" by Katherine Elwes Thomas. Most of the verses came from England; and London, Bath, Bristol and Edinburgh were the scene of many. The name "Mother Goose" has a French background. Many of these rhymes existed for hundreds of years before they were called Mother Goose rhymes. Shakespeare used some of them. They include political diatribe, folklore, proverbs and riddles. Mrs. Markle gave us the fascinating background of some of them. Queen Elizabeth was the cat in the hat who loved to dance to the fiddle. Two prominent members of her court had eloped — they are Dish and Spoon in the rhyme. Mary, Queen of Scots, was Mistress Mary — also Little Miss Muffet. Curds and whey were her problems and John Knox was the spider.

Mrs. William Ryland presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. Howard Lewis, Mrs. Fred Ertel and Miss Helen Turner were appointed to the nominating committee.

It was announced that the New York State Convention of Federated Womens Clubs will be held April 24 to 29, in the Statler Hilton Hotel at Buffalo.

The next meeting will be on March 21 in the home of Mrs. Fred Ertel.

A coffee hour preceded the meeting with Mrs. Howard Lewis presiding at the table.

State DAR Chairman Of National Defense Is Speaker Here

Monday, March 7. Mrs. R. R. Empringham, Regent presiding, Wiltwyck Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution held its regular meeting in the Chapter House with Mrs. Maurice P. Van Buren, State Chairman of National Defense, guest of honor and speaker.

Mrs. Van Buren named the United States as the greatest country the world has ever known and in contradistinction to those which have fought wars for conquest and plunder, this nation has bestowed foreign aid, restored the economy of Germany and Japan and mentioned little Finland as the only one ever to attempt to repay us.

Continuing, the speaker named the John Dewey system of education with its lack of discipline as responsible for much of the unrest among our young and that a massive job of education is needed herein. Centralized government control, acceptance of the welfare state, world citizenship for all nations, with an adequate police force under U. N. control, no nation allowed to withdraw, with the failure of the general public to comprehend as leading toward World Government were included in the discourse.

Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, chairman presented a Resolution in remembrance of Mrs. Burton L. Haver and a moment of silence was observed.

Reported from Washington was the establishment February 1, by the National Board of an annual American History Scholarship honoring American History Month (February) amounting to $8,000.00 a year for 4 years to a senior boy or girl majoring in American History, qualifying under approved rules.

Reported also was the acceptance in Washington on February 1, of 1539 new members, 70 of these from New York State, 27 of whom were juniors.

Elected was a nominating committee for a slate of officers for 1966-67, the Mmes. Cloyd L. Elias chairman, Walter A. Perret, Charlotte A. Peck, Stuart S. Randall, W. Dale Swartzmiller.

Mrs. Harry J. Rigby Jr., announced the annual spring rummage sale on Friday and Saturday April 1 and 2, in the Chapter House.

Reservations were taken for a luncheon at Poughkeepsie Inn Monday March 14 of Mahlenawash Chapter, guest speaker State Regent Mrs. Edward J. Reilly, and the luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel April 14 of Wiltwyck Chapter, guest speaker State Vice-Regent Mrs. James E. Clyde.

The evening's activities terminated with recitations of the American's Creed. Hostesses for the supper were the Mmes. Floyd N. Ellsworth, Ashton H. Hart, Misses Alberta Davis, Anna S. Brandt.

Attention: All Women's Organizations

The Freeman now has two full time photographers — Milton Wagenfohr and John Kruh.

The addition of Mr. Kruh, a former Brooklyn Eagle man, to the full time staff will be of interest to women's organizations. It means photographic coverage will be available for luncheons and other functions taking place early in the day.

Mr. Kruh's schedule will include the following: Wednesdays through Fridays 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; Saturdays and Sundays, 2 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Contact the Freeman Society Editor for coverage of events geared for the social pages.

'Meet the Artist' Series at UCCC

The watercolor paintings of the noted artist, Salvatore Cascio, will be featured in the next "Meet the Artist" series of the art program at Ulster County Community College. The exhibition will be held in Gallery Hall, Room 34 of the College, from March 13 to April 8.

A reception and preview of the selected group of paintings is scheduled for Sunday, March 13, from 3 to 6 p. m. at the College, 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston. Dr. Dale B. Lake, President of the College, invites the public, faculty and students to the preview and exhibition, for which there is no charge. Refreshments will be served at the Sunday reception at which time there will be an opportunity to meet the artist.

Mr. Cascio's watercolors, according to Professor Ruth Muroff, A.I.D. Coordinator of the arts program, is concerned with abstract structural elements that set mood and control movement. Nature provides the mainspring for his images, but perception and invented relationships provide the skill and sensitivity. His watercolor paintings reveal a lyrical brush, perceptiveness, and knowledge of nature and form around him.

Salvatore Cascio was born in Italy and came to the United States in 1929 at the age of six. He is married and resides in Scotia, New York, with his wife and four children. He is an artist for General Electric Company at Schenectady. Last September he began his 16th year of teaching painting at the Schenectady Museum.

This is his 18th one man show. He has exhibited at the Schenectady Museum; Albany Institute of History and Art; Union College; State University of New York; Shore Galleries, Boston, Mass.; and Denver Museum of Art.

Mr. Cascio has been in group shows at the University of California at Berkeley; Seattle Museum of Art; St. Louis Museum of Art; Santa Barbara Museum of Art; University of North Carolina; Argent Gallery, New York; Wellfleet, Mass.; Berkshire Museum of Art, Pittsfield, Mass.; Cooperstown Art Association; and American Watercolor Society, New York. He is represented in the collections of Munson William Proctor Museum; Albany Institute of History and Art; Schenectady Museum and in many private collections throughout the United States and Europe.

His most recent prizes are 1964 First Prize Watercolor, Albany Institute of History and Art; Regional Shows; 1964 Graphic Show prize Schenectady Museum; 1965 First Prize, Cooperstown Regional.

This watercolor exhibition affords the community an opportunity to view original art work as well as meet the artist.

Grow-Power can bridge the great credit gap!

Unless Savings Banks are permitted to make personal loans, there may be $2.4 billion less money to borrow than people will need.

Personal credit helps pace the economic growth of New York State. By borrowing money through installment loans, people are able to buy things they need at the time they need them. But the demand for personal credit is increasing far faster than the supply.

So fast that economists predict the supply of money for borrowing will be $2.4-billion less than the demand within five years. We face a personal credit gap of two billion, four hundred million dollars in New York State by 1970!

To help bridge this credit gap—to forestall the predicted scarcity of funds for borrowing—Savings Banks should be permitted to make personal loans.

The Savings Banks of New York State have more than thirty billion dollars in deposits—a vast reservoir of investment funds. They lend more money on home mortgages than all other sources in the state combined. They stand among the leaders in home improvement loans and student loans. But, as of today, you can't borrow a dollar from a Savings Bank on a personal loan!

The current restrictions on personal loans are a burden the economy cannot afford. They deny to the borrowing public the lower costs and improved services that invariably result from free and open competition.

Let's change the law now and bring personal loans out into the fresh air of competition. Let's help bridge the credit gap with Grow-Power!

If you would like more information to help you express your views on this subject, write to Savings Banks Association of New York State, 200 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

Notes Inflation Signs; Outlines Possible Curbs

EDITOR'S NOTE — Is inflation already here or just around the corner? In this, second of two articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, points out the present signs of inflation and outlines what is being done, or could be done, to halt it.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk about inflation, present or impending, is spurring a two-pronged search. One is for any and all signs of inflation. The other is for methods of warding it off or controlling it.

As the cost of living rises and the pundits argue about the meaning of this, here are some answers to questions that may be bothering you:

Cites Signs

Q—What are today's signs of incipient inflation?

A — The unemployment rate is 3.7 per cent of the labor force, lowest since November 1953. Skilled labor shortages are appearing, sending overtime payrolls up. Unions are raising their wage demands. Output per man hour of labor is increasing only slowly now, where it was zooming upward a year or two ago. Many raw material prices have edged up. Firms are building up inventories, some fearing either shortages or further price increases ahead. Demand for finished goods has taxed the capacity of some industries and delivery times are being stretched out as order backlogs mount.

Q — What about the monetary signs of inflation?

A — Interest rates are rising as the demand for loans increases despite a marked increase in the supply of money and credit since last summer. Consumers are spending a larger percentage of their income and saving a smaller share — although personal income has soared so high that the totals for both spending and saving are at record highs.

Asks of Controls

Q — What steps are the money managers taking to ward off inflation?

A — The Federal Reserve Board has raised interest rates. It also is tightening money by shrinking the free reserves which banks can use to make loans to business and to consumers. The idea is to restrain mildly the urge to borrow and to spend.

Q — What is the government doing about inflation?

A — Asking Congress to increase tax collections this year. This would leave less for individuals and corporations to spend now. The President also is urging labor and management to observe guidelines holding down wage and price increases.

Q — What is proposed beyond the steps already taken?

May Use Taxes

A — The President is asking the Congress to be ready to vote higher taxes quickly if inflation becomes obvious. This would leave less money to chase the available goods. Some think the Federal Reserve should make money and credit still tighter. This would involve still higher interest rates to discourage borrowing, whether to build a new plant, buy a new car or to buy a new home by means of a mortgage.

Q — But if in the days ahead wholesale and consumer prices rise still more rapidly, what is likely to happen?

A — Some consumers might put off buying high-priced goods, especially those they can easily do without. Business might hold up some of its plans for building plants or buying new equipment. Demands for higher wages to meet rising prices would become more insistent. Price increases on American goods could cut U.S. exports, swell the deficit in the balance of payments, and weaken the status of the dollar.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, March 11, the 70th day of 1966. There are 295 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1888, the great blizzard of that year began. It raged until March 14, leaving drifts from 10 to 20 feet in the middle Atlantic states and New England. More than 400 lives were lost.

On this date in 1794, the first appropriation was made for the construction of the U.S. Navy.

In 1865, Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman occupied Fayetteville, N.C.

In 1938, German troops crossed the Austrian frontier.

In 1946, Washington made public the names of 600 Americans who had been described as Nazis in secret German documents.

Ten years ago — Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria announced agreement on plans for a unified defense against Israel.

Five years ago — Eighteen Congolese political leaders met in the Malagasy Republic.

Brinks' Facing Suit Over Press Release

CHICAGO (AP)—Brink's Inc. faces a $16-million libel suit for damages the American District Telegraph Co. of New York alleges were in a Brink's press release after a burglary at its Syracuse, N.Y., office last October.

The suit was filed Thursday in U.S. District Court here. It declares the release was circulated Dec. 21, 1965 in connection with a suit for damages that Brink's of Chicago filed against American District Telegraph, which supplied Brink's with its burglar alarm equipment.

The libel suit also says the release contained erroneous references to protective equipment at the Syracuse office, which was looted of more than $400,000 the weekend of Oct. 23-24, also charged that Arthur S. Genet, Brink's president, appeared on television and repeated the allegedly erroneous statements.

State Receives Two U. S. Grants for Aging

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State is the recipient of two grants totaling $43,352 from the Administration on Aging to help finance projects for older persons in New York City.

The grants, made available under terms of the Older Americans Act of 1965, were announced Thursday.

They are: —$22,877 to the National Council on Aging for the first year of a three-year project to help staff senior centers.

—$20,475 to the Oliver Wendell Holmes Association for a demonstration project to help older persons continue intellectual interests as students and teachers.

Durante Finally Reveals Identity Of Mrs. Calabash

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP-TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television networks, occasionally and reluctantly, pool manpower and equipment for things like space shots and political conventions, but their fierce rivalry and competition is the real thing.

Bennett Cerf, member of CBS' "What's My Line?" panel, heads a publishing house which is being acquired by the Radio Corporation of America and is expected to become a member of the RCA board. NBC is a subsidiary of RCA.

Mark Goodson, producer of game shows including "What's My Line?" said in a recent radio interview that Cerf had been under "great pressure" by RCA to leave the panel.

Apparently this situation has been adjusted somehow, since Cerf is expected to continue on the show.

The show business publication "Variety" reported from Washington this week that Jimmy Durante had finally revealed the identity of the mysterious Mrs. Calabash to whom he has always wished a fond adieu at the end of his television and radio programs.

It was his first wife, Jeanne, who died more than 20 years ago. When they were first married, he explained, they lived in a Chicago boarding house run by a nice woman named Mrs. Calabash, and that somehow became his nickname for his wife. The line, "Goodnight Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are" started out as a personal greeting in on radio to his wife, and later became his broadcasting signature.

Wilson Notes Interesting Trends in Business Poll

Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson said today he has been informed by the New York State Council of Retail Merchants of the results of that organization's recent state-wide poll on matters concerning State government and State programs, and that some of the answers showed some rather interesting reactions and trends.

Assemblyman Wilson said in general State aid programs found favor with the State's retail merchants. The poll revealed that 52 per cent were in favor of increased State aid to school districts, 66 per cent favored expansion of the State University system and Community Colleges, 78 per cent voted in favor of expanding State and local mental health programs, 89 per cent were in favor of greater expenditures to combat crime and drug addiction, and 60 per cent of those polled favored an accelerated highway program throughout the State. One matter that was overwhelmingly turned down, however, was the Governor's proposal to boost wages for State employees by some 8 per cent. A total of 74 per cent of those polled voted against the proposed wage hike.

New Trend on Sales Tax

Several questions were posed regarding the new State sales tax, and here Wilson noted a new trend. On the question of whether the sales tax should be repealed, 48 per cent of those polled favored repeal, while 45 per cent were against doing away with the sales tax. On the other hand, 74 per cent were opposed to any increase in the State income tax. A question was also asked concerning a proposal which Assemblyman Wilson has co-sponsored to allow a simplified sales tax report to be filed based on gross taxable sales, and this proposal was supported by 74 per cent of the State's merchants. Assemblyman Wilson noted only 49 per cent favored additional sales tax exemptions, and the items most favored for new exemptions were those related to medical needs. Wilson was also pleased to note that one measure which he introduced this year, a return to businessmen of a percentage of tax money to compensate for added bookkeeping costs, was favored by 80 per cent of those polled.

Vote Could Be Close

Assemblyman Wilson said the question of a State lottery was also raised, and that opinion on the issue was sharply divided with 47 per cent voting in favor of a lottery, and 49 per cent voting against the proposal. Wilson, who had introduced a bill calling for the question to be brought before the voters this year, predicted that if the business poll is a good indication of public sentiment, the vote on the lottery question will be very close in November. The poll also revealed that 55 per cent of the State's retail merchants were opposed to off-track betting.

According to the Ulster County Assemblyman there was little doubt as to how the businessmen stood on certain wage issues — 78 per cent were opposed to increasing the State's minimum wage to $1.50, 94 per cent opposed increases in the unemployment insurance benefit rates, 86 per cent opposed increases in Workmen's Compensation benefits and 90 per cent voted against a higher wage base for unemployment insurance coverage.

Assemblyman Wilson went on to point out 90 per cent of the retail merchants were against proposals to declare the Friday prior to a Saturday holiday as an additional holiday on the grounds that it would be disruptive to the retail trade.

Wilson noted, however, that a bill which he introduced this year which would confine such legislation to banking institutions has found support among many leading businesses in the State including the New York Telephone Company. The Ulster County Legislator concluded by stating that on the final question of the poll which asked if the merchants had contacted their local legislators concerning various issues, 27 per cent of the retail merchants stated that they had contacted their State Senator on matters concerning government, while 36 per cent said they had contacted their local Assemblyman when they wished to ask a question or express an opinion.

Astros Due . . .

a flight of real time decisions." Kraft said the astronauts were given many tasks because "in Gemini we hope to gain as much space operational experience as possible on all flights."

The doubleheader launching is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. EST Tuesday when an Atlas-Agena rocket boosts the Agena upper stage into orbit. The Titan 2 is to follow at 11:41 a.m., shooting Gemini 8 into space to start the dramatic chase.

If the Agena achieves the desired orbit, Armstrong and Scott will fly almost precisely the same orbit-shifting course that Gemini 6 did in catching up to Gemini 7 in December.

Will Stay Moored

Gemini 8 command pilot Armstrong will fly formation with the target at a distance of about 50 feet for 45 minutes before inserting the nose of the Gemini into an Agena docking collar and firmly locking the two vehicles together.

The astronauts will remain moored to the Agena through a night's sleep. Scott will open his hatch 20 hours, 25 minutes into the flight and will step outside on a 25-foot tether.

After conducting experiments, he will enter an open equipment bay at the base of Gemini 8 and don a life-support back pack and connect an extra 75 feet of tether. During this time Armstrong will disconnect from the Agena and back about 100 feet away. Scott will leave the equipment section and practice maneuvers with his longer tether and a gas-jet gun.

After Scott returns to the cabin, the astronauts will try three more dockings and undockings with the Agena, using varying methods of approach.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered in slow trading early this afternoon.

Thursday's excitement over a boost in the prime interest rate by leading banks simmered down and the rush to unload stocks halted.

The market was irregularly higher almost from the start of trading but it was a cautious advance. The volume up to noon was a million shares less than for the like period Thursday when the market rallied in the morning.

Steels, electrical equipments and assorted industrials accounted for the gain on average. Rails were about even on balance and utilities eased slightly following their surprising recovery Thursday in the midst of the "tight-money" scare. Utilities have been among the worst sufferers because they are mainly "yield" stocks and the competitive yield of bonds overshadows them for income.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 357.6 with industrials up 1.7, rails off .1 and utilities up .1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .42 at 933.35.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds continued to decline in further reaction to the increase in the prime rate.

Five Vie for Votes

SAN SALVADOR (AP) — Five political parties are competing Sunday in congressional and municipal elections in El Salvador, and indications are that the government will keep its majority in the Legislative Assembly.

Observers say, however, that President Julio Adalberto Rivera's National Conciliation party is unlikely to get the two-thirds majority needed to push through important legislation.

Tuesday Elections

now holds. Voting takes place from 1 to 5 p.m.

The one party system has also had its effect on the Village of Saugerties where the election will be uncontested. The once active Independent Party has given up the fight and only the Village Party will field candidates. The four incumbents, re-nominated by that party, are:

David J. Goble, seeking a four year term as police justice, a job he has held since his appointment in October 1965 to fill an unexpired term; and Arthur D. York, Charles W. Steele and Richard J. Underhill Jr. all running for trustees for two year terms. York and Underhill are life-long residents of Saugerties. York was originally appointed to the Village Board; later ran successfully for the same office as Village Party candidate. Underhill is another appointee named in September 1965 to fill an unexpired term. Steele ran successfully last year for trustee after appointment to the Board in October 1964 and now serves as police commissioner.

Saugerties voters will cast their ballots in the office of the Village Clerk between 12 noon and 9 p.m.

If local politics offer none of the usual hectic campaign drives in Saugerties and Pine Hill, Tuesday's election in New Paltz promises something totally new and unusual. Voters there will be weighing a proposition on the incorporation of the village. Protests and counter protests have followed this move and such a major step could have far reaching effects. Disincorporation is not endorsed by the present Board of Trustees but it is held in esteem by the local group which circulated a petition to force its appearance on the ballot.

Just this week a public hearing on the matter drew some 300 New Paltz residents to the local high school to discuss the pro and con ramifications of the changeover.

3 Uncontested

The New Paltz election cannot hurt politically those running for office. No contests exist in the race for trustees even though three vacancies are open. All three incumbents of the People's Party are running unopposed and will win by default. Uncontested on the ballot will be Harold Phillip and William George, seeking four year terms as trustees, and Dominick Sfragola, who is making the run for a one year unexpired term as trustee.

New Paltz residents, like citizens in most other local villages, will vote from 12 noon to 9 p.m. in the Fire Department meeting rooms.

Accept $1.60 Wage Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell says that after months of negotiation, organized labor, key House leaders and the Johnson administration have agreed to work for an increase in the minimum wage from $1.25 an hour to $1.60.

The New York Democrat said Thursday the agreement calls for the new wage rate to go into effect by Feb. 1, 1968, and also to expand its coverage by an additional 6.9 million workers there. No change in the minimum will be sought this year.

Powell said, but an increase to $1.40 an hour will go into effect Feb. 1 of next year.

The bill will be introduced next week, Powell said, and then be acted on by the House Education and Labor Committee. Powell heads the committee.

Held on Check Charge

Accused of issuing a fraudulent check, Mary Patricia Senor, 26, of 113 Spring Street, this city, was arrested Thursday by State Trooper David Wachtel on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Robert S. Stedje, Town of Ulster. The defendant was released pending a hearing on Monday at 2 p.m., according to Trooper Norman Kilfoyle.

Rain Brings Hope

Scattered rain in western New South Wales during the past 24 hours gave farmers and cattle breeders today some hope of relief from a record drought described as the worst in memory.

Penney's to Get Unusual Cards on 64th Anniversary

During March 2-19, about five million "anniversary cards" will be sent to J. C. Penney Company headquarters in New York — and every one will arrive punched with holes.

While not greetings in the usual sense, the 2 by 1 inch perforated cards are important. Each will represent a sale and, hopefully, a satisfied, well-served customer during Penney's 64th anniversary observance.

The tiny cards will be sent to company headquarters from Penney stores around the nation, including the one here. They form the basis of the firm's semi-automatic stock control system for selected lines of staple, year-round merchandise such as underwear, hosiery, men's shirts, lingerie and work clothing.

Customers see the cards in stores attached to articles of merchandise. Each card contains such information as lot number, color, size and store number. When an item is sold, the card is removed by the store manager or sales associate and mailed to Penney's data processing center at its New York headquarters.

At this point, the cards take over, "reading" the pin hole code in the cards and reordering stock for the stores. At the same time, the computers will compile sales statistics and other data.

Manager Gordon Dew of the Penney Store at 318 Wall Street says, "Sixty-four years ago, at our first store in Kemmerer, Wyo., Mr. Penney was able to keep a whole year's figures and stock inventory in one small ledger. He used a code, too, but it was written in ink."

"Sales for first year were nearly $29,000. Now the Company does that much volume in a matter of minutes. If we kept records the old way, each year we'd use thousands of ledgers like Mr. Penney's."

More than 40 per cent of Penney's 2.2 billion-dollar annual sales are processed by the modern computer system. Consumers have benefited through better balanced stocks and wider assortment of merchandise. Instead of breaking with the past, the new system actually puts Penney stores more closely in step with tradition. The cost of store operation has been reduced, and associates can now spend more time helping customers. Full value for a dollar spent and customer service were two of Penney's original concepts.

Charges Lindsay With Transit Power Grab

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A prominent Republican unexpectedly joined today in the attack on New York Mayor John V. Lindsay's battered plans to unify the city's transit service.

The criticism came from John J. Gilhooley, a commissioner of the New York Transit Authority and a strong supporter of a merger of the authority and the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority.

Gilhooley told a legislative hearing considering the mayor's proposals that he considered Lindsay's plans a "power grab" that could wreck the city's transit system.

Gilhooley asserted that the measures were "inane, conceived and ineptly drafted" and might "set unification back 10 years."

The commissioner declared that the bills would give the mayor complete veto power over the operating policies of the two systems and would place the city's public transit "under the direct political control of the mayor."

Woman Hurt in Fall

Mrs. Anna Monell, 31, of 343 Washington Avenue, injured in a fall on Wall Street Thursday afternoon, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Kingston Hospital. Police said she suffered an injured left knee. She was taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance.

Ellenville Will

was unable to leave the nation's capital.

Then, when it was still hoped that he could attend at a later date, Humphrey was sent by the President on a fact-finding tour of the world's trouble spots.

Benjamin Lonstein, president of the Community Hospital Board of Directors, said it was hoped that some other figure of national prominence would be able to participate in the dedication ceremony, and that if so, a date would be fixed for his or her convenience.

Construction of the new hospital was completed earlier this year and the structure was ready for occupancy about a month ago. Actual occupancy of the fully-equipped facility depended upon the availability of help and ambulance squads and equipment.

The new hospital is considered a model of hospitals of the future. Although it is presently a 65-bed facility, it has a 100-bed "core." The former Veterans Hospital had 2,074 admissions for the year 1964-65, and a total of 13,999 "patient days."

Dr. David Wainapel is president of the new hospital medical staff.

Three Are Convicted in Malcolm X Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — After deliberating more than 20 hours, a Supreme Court jury has convicted three men of first-degree murder in the assassination of black nationalist leader Malcolm X.

Only five silent spectators were seated in the heavily guarded courtroom when George Carter, the Negro foreman, read the verdict at 12:20 a.m. today.

The case had gone to the jury of three white women and nine men, including three Negroes, on Wednesday afternoon after an eight-week trial.

Highlighting those proceedings was the dramatic courtroom confession of Talmadge Hayer, 24, one of the convicted men. In reversing earlier testimony in which he had sworn he was innocent, Hayer admitted taking part in the killing.

But Hayer, of Paterson, N.J., indicted under the name Thomas Hogan, sought to exonerate the other two defendants, Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, both of the Bronx.

He said he had been hired by four other men to kill Malcolm, but he refused to name his confederates, saying "I just want to testify that Butler and Johnson had nothing to do with this."

Justice Charles Marks set April 14 for sentencing the three men to mandatory life imprisonment. Malcolm was felled in a hail of shotgun and pistol fire on Feb. 21, 1965, as he appeared before 400 of his followers in a Manhattan ballroom.

Sees Rocky Strong

COEYMAN, N.Y. (AP) — Republican State Chairman Carl Spad says Gov. Rockefeller is "coming back strong" and the state GOP is "riding a rolling momentum" toward the November election.

Spad, speaking Thursday night to the Republican Committee in this community near Albany, said that "if the election were tomorrow, I feel it could be a toss up."

Nine months ago, Spad expressed concern over Rockefeller's chances of winning a third term.

Purse Returned to Owner

A purse containing $100, found on Broadway near Field Court by Officer Howard Kelly this morning was returned to its owner soon after it was taken to police headquarters. It was found shortly before 9 a.m., and was claimed by its owner, Mrs. Richard Styles, of 126 Pearl Street, at about 9:30, after Sgt. William Hanley had contacted a relative.

Woman Hurt in Fall

Mrs. Anna Monell, 31, of 343 Washington Avenue, injured in a fall on Wall Street Thursday afternoon, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Kingston Hospital. Police said she suffered an injured left knee. She was taken to the hospital by Fatum ambulance.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor & Analyst

No Worrier Should Hold Common Stocks

Q: "I have an aged mother with practically all savings in two places. She has $5,000 in the bank and $25,000 in a mutual fund. She worries about these shares. Can you help me?" G. M.

A: It is very good of you to be concerned about your mother. She holds shares in a rather good mutual fund, which pays her a fine return if payments from security profits are included. Her mutual fund is largely committed to common stocks and is subject to fluctuations, just as common shares are. I do not believe your mother has real grounds for worry.

I do believe strongly, however, that no one—particularly an older person—should hold any fluctuating investment which is causing him concern. Your mother can turn in her mutual fund shares at net asset value without loss and I think she should do so. In her case, the money belongs in a savings institution or in savings bonds. Then she can be free of all care.

Q: "As a hedge against inflation, I have just bought Southwestern Drug. What do you think of this stock?" P. C.

A: Southwestern Drug, in my opinion, is a sound and well-managed company. The stock, however, should be regarded as a good income producer rather than as a growth issue which will protect you against inflation. Southwestern has shown steady earnings and a good dividend coverage but the shares in recent years have traded in a narrow range, without making any progress.

For inflation protection, you should own a stock which has consistently advanced in earnings, dividends and price at a faster rate than dollar devaluation. Keep Southwestern Drug for income, if you will, but for inflation protection I suggest Republic National Life of Dallas, which has been acting better than its group. As an alternative with higher income, I suggest Texaco, which has shown consistent growth.

Travia Ready For Compromise On $1.50 Pay

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia was prepared today to end his brief holdout and compromise with Gov. Rockefeller on a plan to raise the minimum wage in New York State to $1.50 an hour.

As a result, it appeared legislation would be enacted boosting the minimum from $1.25 to $1.40, effective Sept. 1, and then to $1.50 on Jan. 1.

"If labor is willing to do that, it's O.K. with me," Travia told the Associated Press.

A Democratic-Republican compromise appeared to be in the making also on proposals for economy reductions in Rockefeller's record $3.98 billion budget.

The fiscal committee chairman reported Thursday they had reached tentative agreement on the areas to be cut and would negotiate further to arrive at the precise figures. No details were made available.

It had been learned, however, that Democrats sought reductions totaling $43 million, while the GOP proposed cuts of $20 million.

Pomeroy

Pomeroy Word 3 . . . . . grew from this district. I have been and I am still a candidate for the Congressional post."

Asked by a reporter if he would consider the Republican nomination for the state senatorial post, Fish repeated his comment, insisting he is seeking a congressional seat. He also noted that there is nothing definite as to the decision by the courts on the redistricting.

Phipps' Stables Busy Saturday On Four Fronts

Eddie Nelay, head man of the vast Phipps family's thoroughbred racing interests, will spread his forces over three fronts Saturday. But he'll share interest with 59-year-old Grandpa Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey who says he is retiring — definitely — from the saddle.

Nelay, whose star, Buckpasser, is awaiting the $100,000-added Florida Derby on April 2, will send another of his powerful string of 3-year-olds, Stupendous, after the $45,000 - added Louisiana Derby at the Fair Grounds. He also will go after the $50,000-added Donn Handicap at Gulfstream Park with the 4-year-old Dapper Dan and the $25,000 - added Old Line Handicap at Pimlico with still another 4-year-old, Time Tested.

Longden, winner of 6,030 races, will be astride Canadian-owned George Royal in his farewell in the $125,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap. Although George Royal won the about 1 1/2-mile race on the grass last year, he is not rated among the favorites in the probable field of 12.

Hill Rise, with Manuel Ycaza in the saddle, will be the high-weight under 126 pounds. Cedar Key, with Bill Shoemaker up, will pick up 124 and George Royal 118.

Pia Star, winner of the Widener Handicap at Hialeah last month, is the likely Donn favorite although he'll carry 121 pounds and give from 7 to 10 to his rivals.

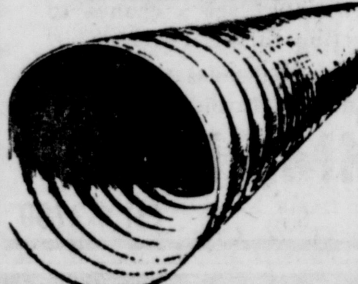

Stupendous, sixth back of Buckpasser in the Flamingo after forcing the early pace, stands out in the 1 1/2 miles of the Louisiana Derby.

Time Tested, winner of two stakes in Florida, also rates over eight probable rivals in the six furlongs of Old Line 'Cap.

Faculty Game

The Rondout Valley Teachers Association will sponsor the annual Faculty-Senior basketball game on Friday, March 18, at the RV high school gym. Two basketball games are scheduled; the ladies' game begins at 7 p. m.; the men's game will start at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds are for the RVTA scholarship fund.

KHS-Newburgh Play Tonight In New Paltz

By ED PALLADINO Freeman Sports Staff

The long, sometimes dreary basketball season comes to a roaring climax this weekend at the State University gym in New Paltz with finals tonight and Saturday in the four classes of the Section Nine tournament.

Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy, a couple of long time rivals, will collide in tonight's second game, slated to begin around 8:30, for the Class A championship.

In the opening tilt at 7 o'clock, Warwick and Washingtonville, a pair of Orange County league clubs, will battle it out for the B crown.

Dukes Meet New Paltz

The smaller schools will be in the spotlight on Saturday night as Narrowsburg of the Western-Sullivan circuit opposes Orange County champion Tuxedo in a 7 o'clock engagement for the Class D title and Marlboro and New Paltz, the two top clubs in the UCAL, meet for the Class C championship.

Tonight's first game foes won easy decisions to gain the finals. Warwick walloped Tappan Zee, a winner over Monticello in the opening round, 60-46, without difficulty. Washingtonville thrashed Ontario last Friday.

The second game figures to be a corker. Newburgh lost only twice to Beacon and to nobody else while rolling to 10 straight DUSO wins. Kingston had a so-so 10-7 regular season record and has won two tourney tilts.

Third Game

This marks the third meeting between the clubs and the Goldies won a couple of close games in the previous matches. Kingston was second in DUSO play and can call the season a successful one by beating the Goldbacks.

Narrowsburg and Tuxedo, Saturday's first game opponents, started the D division tourney by posting victories. Narrowsburg nipped Florida, 76-71, while Tuxedo topped Jeff-Youngsville, 71-61.

Marlboro and New Paltz are not strangers. They split two regular season games and the Dukes captured the odd contest in a playoff for the UCAL title. The Huguenots, who lost their championship to Marlboro, aim to reverse the tables this time around.

When the final whistle blows around 10:30 Saturday night, the season, which began way back in November, will be concluded. The last weekend figures to be a corker.

Celtics Tighten Eastern Chase

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Boston Celtics ended their drought in Cincinnati Thursday night with a key 124-120 victory over the Royals in the only National Basketball Association game played.

The victory — Boston's first here this season after four straight losses — locked up at least a second-place tie for the Celtics and put them on the heels of the leading Philadelphia 76ers in the tight Eastern Division race.

Boston now trails Philadelphia by only a half-game, and the Royals are in third place, 5 1/2 games out.

The Los Angeles Lakers have already clinched first place in the Western Division.

SITZ-M-A-R-K-S

By CHARLES J. TIANO (Freeman Sports Editor)

The vernal equinox is drawing closer. The weather is improving and the golfers are getting restless. The 1965-66 ski season is slowly slipping away.

We hope you found some items of interest in this maiden effort at ski reporting. Next Week our girl Friday, Sharon Stahl, will wrap it up with some personal observations on this unpredictable season that broke many hearts.

Sharon's Trailsweepings:

Russell Burgess, a West Hurley skier employed at IBM Kingston, ran his first Giant Slalom last week at Stowe, Vt. and finished in 62:46 despite a fall on the course. Fifty men and 16 women entered the Little Spruce Giant Slalom sponsored by the Mt. Mansfield Ski Club of Stowe. Helmut Schranz, a brother of Olympic racer Karl, was the forerunner of the slalom, with a time of 38:31. Winner of the event was Gary Kingham, 42:83, with Claudia Elliman topping the women at 44:38.

Schuss Notes:

Several Trail Sweepers are proudly sporting their recently earned Basic and Intermediate pins, as a result of the tests given at Mt. Sunapee, New Hampshire, last weekend. Those who passed the Basic Skiing Proficiency Test include: Dick Stoltz and Dot Birmingham (the Trail Sweepers' new vice president of Woodstock); Frank Damis, Bob Singer, Lou Watta, Cal Waller, Don Drasler, Tom Kennedy, Ron Gaffly and Doris Urell, Kingston; and Tremper Salzman of Red Hook. Passing the Intermediate test were Don Drasler, Tremper Salzman, Tom Bolk, Poughkeepsie; and Sue Alexander of Kingston.

The club traveled to New Hampshire for the Mt. Sunapee Annual Invitational Weekend, March 4-6.

The good word from Ralph Smith of the Trail Sweepers Ski Patrol is that 19 out of 26 passed the toboggan portion of the Ski Patrol Test, given at Belleayre last Sunday, despite the soggy conditions. Locally the successful candidates were: Arnold Major and Werner Kohn of the Belleayre Patrol; Carl Gold, Sandra Bayhille, John Raftery of Davos; Herman Rocca-bruna and Barry Frantz of Hunter Mountain Patrol; Edward Chavez, Big Bear Patrol; and Don Bostrom, Windham patrol.

Another Ski Patrol Test is scheduled at Highmount the first Sunday in April, snow conditions permitting.

Citation for Martini:

Skiing Magazine's "Eastern Roundup" (March/April issue) flashed a spotlight on one of the more popular Trail Sweepers in the area — Peter Martini.

Said the item: "Davos, one of New York's 'ski closer' areas, is only a snowball throw or two from the center of the metropolitan area, but the ski center in Woodridge went far afield this season — to Munich, Germany — for its new ski school director. Named was Peter Martini, 28, to take over the busy Davos ski school. Martini came to the United States four years ago and has worked successfully with junior races in the central New York area. He reportedly will drink anything with an olive in it."

Also in the same section of that issue was a salute to Belleayre Ski Patrolmen George Kelly of Woodstock and Lou Fucillo of East Meadow, L. I., for their newly-devised invention for evacuating stalled chairlifts.

Don't Follow This Act:

We've heard of "sister acts" but this is ridiculous — both Dugan girls from Saugerties (Mary and Liz) are limping these days, as the result of separate skiing accidents. Liz injured her leg at Big Bear last week, while sister Mary sprained an ankle during a fun race at Mt. Sunapee over the weekend. Nothing like togetherness!

Also in the accident department — glad to see Dick Whiston making a nice recovery from a leg fracture he suffered at Belleayre at the beginning of the season. He was propped up on a chaise lounge at the finish line of the Draper Memorial Race to see his wife Cathy, and father-in-law, Dr. C. J. Goffredi compete for the Trail Sweepers. Asked why he wasn't racing, Dick replied: "I couldn't find the right wax for my crutch tips!"

USEASA Jumping Committee head Bill Avison took up sky diving two years ago and insists you get the same "free" feeling as running brand new, untracked powder snow. Bill, who has over 200 free falls to his credit, says 15,000 down to 2,000 feet takes about 75 seconds. Locally Carol Le Fevre of Kerhonkson probably agrees. Carol, a Trail Sweeper, is also an avid sky diver.

Now We've Seen Everything Department: From the Snow Bowl at Milton, N. J. comes the word that night skiing addicts are wearing head and tail lights. Which provokes the thought that next will be the directional signals.

300 Track Stars Vie in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — The photometer may work overtime when some 300 track stars hit the boards today and Saturday at Detroit's Cobo Arena.

Competing in 15 main events and three invitationals, entries from 82 schools will take part in the second annual NCAA Collegiate Indoor Track Championships sponsored by the Detroit News.

The national outdoor champion, Southern California, is a favorite to capture the team title. Michigan State's Gene Washington will defend his national indoor 60-yard hurdles title against collegiate outdoor king Paul Kerry of Southern Cal. The competition also will include Gerry Cerulla of Utah State, Al Rockwell of Brigham Young, Harvey Nairn of Southern, and Pat Pomphrey, Tennessee's Southeastern Conference champion.

Another feature is today's 440-yard run, matching world record holder Don Payne of Kansas State against the top collegian, Gary Carr of Southern Illinois.

Five entrants hold world indoor records, and three individuals and several relay runners are back to defend titles they won with NCAA record performances in last year's inaugural.

Olivets Leaders In Bridge Play

Dr. and Mrs. John Olivet posted a fine 64 1/2 percent score to lead the North-South side of the Glenrie Bridge Club's Fractional point game. Leaders on the East-West were Walter Daumann of Pine Hill and Henry Berleth of Woodstock with 58 percent.

The runnersup: North-South: Mrs. I. H. Wheatcroft-Joseph Mautner, Kingston, 58 1/2 percent; Ralph Wesselmann, Shokan, and Thomas Goodwin, Kingston, 55 percent; Mr. and Mrs. James Cavin, Kingston, 53 1/2 percent. East-West: Robert Yallum-Milton Dubin, Kingston, 57 percent; Michael Liuni, Tillsen, and Thomas Baggot, Kingston, 54 1/2 percent; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre, Hurley, 52 percent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at the Bridge Studio on Fair Street. All bridge players are welcome.

State Women's Tourney Opens

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — Women bowlers — approximately 14,000 of them — begin competition today in the 33rd annual New York State Woman's Bowling Association tournament.

The tourney, in two lanes in suburban Vestal and Endwell, will run weekends through May 29. Teams, doubles and individuals from across the state will be seeking a total of $85,500 in prize money.

A total of 2,724 teams from 91 of the state group's 105 city associations will bowl at Rainbow Garden Lanes in Endwell. Midway Recreation lanes in Vestal is to be the host for 4,745 doubles and 9,490 singles, the association said.

The association's annual convention will be held here May 20-21.

First Impression Doesn't Impress Keane Too Much

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Keane's new-look Yankees were ferocious enough to pass for the oldtime variety as baseball's spring training exhibition season got under way.

But first impressions can be deceiving. The New Yorkers, perennial American League champions until last season, won their first five exhibition games a year ago and wound up with their worst regular season record in 40 years.

So don't blame Keane for not getting too excited about Thursday's 7-4 victory over Washington that featured two-run homers by Joe Pepitone and Clete Boyer and three airtight innings by Bob Friend, making his first appearance in a Yankee uniform.

The Yankees, playing without power hitters Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Tommy Tresh, sprayed 11 hits off four Washington pitchers. Both Pepitone and Boyer connected in the fourth inning against Frank Kreutzer.

Friend, acquired in a winter trade with Pittsburgh for righty Pete Mikkelsen, worked the first three innings and limited the Senators to three singles. John Orsino and Ken Hamlin homered for Washington.

Four Other Games

Four other exhibition games opened the Citrus season. The defending American League champion Minnesota Twins wiped out a 6-0 Houston lead but bowed to the Astros in 11 innings 7-6. Leo Cardenas' three-run homer powered Cincinnati's 5-3 victory over Kansas City. The Chicago White Sox shaded Boston 4-3 and Cleveland battled to a 1-1 tie with the Mexico City Tigers in a game halted after five innings by rain.

Jerry Kindall, playing at first base, bobbled Walt Bond's bouncer, permitting Sonny Jackson to score Houston's winning run against Minnesota in the 11th inning.

Don Mincher had three hits including a home run for the Twins.

Cardenas' homer broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning and lifted the Reds past Kansas City. The shot came off reliever Jack Aker who had just taken over for Roland Sheldon.

Three Cincinnati pitchers — Sammy Ellis, Jim O'Toole and Dom Zanni — limited the A's to three hits.

The White Sox scored the winning run against Boston on a fourth inning double steal with Tom McCraw swiping home. Rookie Bill Voss, who stole two bases, broke for second and McCraw for home with two out in the fourth and the maneuver worked.

Top bonus paid to a Los Angeles Dodger was the $100,000 received by outfielder Willie Crawford.

Sunny Jim Dies at 91;
Dean of Horse Racing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — James E. (Sunny Jim) Fitzsimmons, American horse racing's Grand Old Man, died today at the age of 91 at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

He saddled the winners of 2,275 races and his charges earned $13,082,911.

Fitzsimmons' grandson, Bob Carr, said Fitzsimmons entered the hospital for a physical examination last Saturday.

Funeral services will be held in Brooklyn, N.Y., at the John Healy Funeral Home. No date has been set.

Known affectionately as "Mr. Fitz" or "Sunny Jim," Fitzsimmons had devoted more than 75 years to riding and training horses. He saddled winners everywhere from the half-mile tracks of the "leaky roof" circuit, where he sometimes went without a meal to see that his horses were fed, to the "Big A"—the multimillion-dollar Aqueduct track in New York.

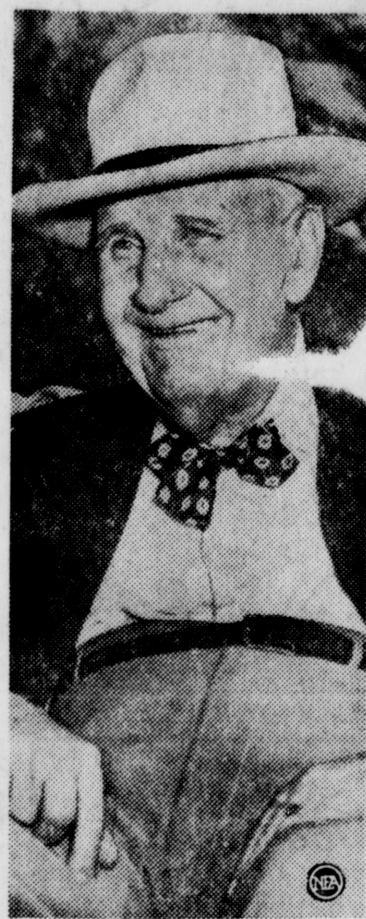

Fitzsimmons was born on a farm that later became the site of a race track and he spent most of his long life around race tracks.

He retired in 1963.

Two Triple Crowns

He developed two winners of racing's triple crown — Gallant Fox in 1930 and Omaha in 1935 — and 10 others that won one or more of those three classics, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

He was the leading American trainer five years during the period when he handled the horses owned by William Woodward's Belair Stud. When the stable disbanded in 1955 — the year Mr. Fitz's Nashua was named horse of the year — he moved on to the Wheatley Stable and produced another champion, Bold Ruler, horse of the year in 1957.

Ferraro Debuts
With Yankees

Mike Ferraro of Kingston went hitless in two turns at bat, as the New York Yankees opened the 1966 exhibition season with a 7-4 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday at Fort Lauderdale.

Ferraro replaced Clete Boyer at third base, after the latter has slammed a double and a homer in three trips.

The animals under his care, Fitzsimmons was honored on many occasions for his contributions to racing.

Races were named after him. He received an award from the New York turf writers in 1955 for "outstanding contributions to racing over a period of years" and the Sportsmanship Brotherhood Award in 1956.

Born in 1874

Fitzsimmons was born July 23, 1874, in a farmhouse in the Sheephead Bay section of Brooklyn. A few years later, the house was torn down to make room for the Sheephead Bay race track.

Eleven years later — he remembered the date, March 4, because it was the day Grover Cleveland was inaugurated as president — he obtained a job as water boy from the Brown Brothers Stable at Sheephead Bay. He learned to ride horses and had a rather undistinguished 10-year career as a jockey.

Fitzsimmons was married in 1892 to Jennie Harvey. They had five sons, three of whom became Mr. Fitz's assistants, and one daughter. Mrs. Fitzsimmons died in 1951.

7,600 Turned Out
At Batavia Track

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 7,600 fans turned out for the $1,500 Inaugural Pace at Batavia Downs Thursday night as harness racing began its spring stand in Upstate New York.

Ray Adios, a 7-year-old gelding driven by Canadian Claude Patry, captured the event, featured as the track opened its 44-night spring meet. Trumet was second, followed by Midwesterner. The time for the mile was 2:11 2-5.

Ray Adios, owned by MGB Stables of St. Lambert, Que., returned $6.80, $4.60 and $3.20. The 7,597 fans wagered $3,9485 in the pari-mutuels.

The famed Adios name also highlighted action at Yonkers Raceway, where a field of 24 pacers split into three divisions to qualify for next Thursday's running of the Adios Festival.

The first and second finishers in each division and two additional sidewheelers were chosen for the $25,000 event's 8-horse field.

In the Adios Boy division, Vicki's Jet overtook Toby Star in 2:02 4-5 to return $4.20, $3.20 and $2.40.

The Adios Harry division was won by Great Credit in 2:02 1-5. Balenzano was second. Great Credit returned $6.60, $3.60 and $2.20.

Adora's Dream paced to a three-quarter length victory over Cold Front in 2:02 2-5 to win the Adios Butler division. The winner returned $2.80, $2.20 and $2.20.

Harry's Laura and Yankee Mick were selected to fill out the field in next Thursday's Adios Festival.

Middlebury Also
Rejects 1.6 Rule

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP) —

Middlebury joined the Ivy League and a band of other scattered colleges today in rejecting the NCAA's so-called 1.6 rule governing academic standards for athletic scholarships.

Middlebury President Dr. James I. Armstrong said the college makes no distinction between athletes and non-athletes in granting financial aid and "believes it inappropriate to adhere" to the NCAA ruling.

Armstrong said Middlebury "has no quarrel with the NCAA," but the school feels "our internal policies and standards should not be regulated externally."

The NCAA has ruled that schools which fail to comply with the 1.6 code, based on a 4.0 grade, are barred from NCAA championship competition.

Draw real draught
beer in your own home.

New from Ballantine—the "Gallon Keg."

Now you can enjoy the fresh taste of Ballantine draught beer right in your own living room—with the new Ballantine "Gallon Keg."

Just insert the tap, draw and fast—you've added fresh, new excitement to your big parties or your parties of one.

You can buy the "Gallon Keg" at your tavern or store right now. Tonight, bring home both the container and the snap-to-adjust tap. Draw the best beer in town.

Easy to handle:

Just insert the tap, clamp it into place and draw. The permanent tap unit costs extra, but it soon pays for itself. By simply replacing the handy CO<sub>2</sub> cartridge when you tap a new "Gallon Keg," you'll be able to enjoy the fresh taste of real draught beer whenever you wish.

Easy to store:

The "Gallon Keg" fits into any refrigerator. To get the freshest tasting draught beer, it must be kept under refrigeration. Ballantine keeps it cold—at proper draught temperature—from vat to store to you. So look for the "Gallon Keg" wherever cold beer is sold.

Easy going down:

Like regular Ballantine, there's more spirit to Ballantine draught beer. And spirit is what separates Ballantine from the rest of the pack. Try it. You'll enjoy the Ballantine spirit. Ballantine draught beer costs no more than regular Ballantine. Up to 20 full glasses in every "Gallon Keg."

Cornell and Boston U. In Hockey Semi-Final

BOSTON (AP) — Cornell's Ivy League champions meets high-powered Boston University and top-ranked Clarkson faces Brown tonight in semi-finals of the Eastern College Athletic Conference hockey tournament at the Arena.

Despite the outcome of the tournament which winds up Saturday night, Clarkson and BU appear assured of the Eastern berths in the NCAA championships. Cornell and Brown are ineligible because of the Ivy-NCAA fight over the 1.6 academic rule for athletic scholarships.

See Civic Group As Force Behind Milwaukee Suit

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Milwaukee civic group seeking to obtain an expansion franchise in the National League was pictured Thursday as one of the instigators of the antitrust action against baseball.

Attorneys defending the game against monopoly charges in the move of the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta, pointed an accusing finger at Teams Inc., and the Milwaukee Brewers Inc., whose leadership is much the same.

Counsel sought to bring out, through cross-examination of a key state witness, that baseball-minded civic leaders, with the tacit approval of Milwaukee County officials, prodded the state into starting the suit now being tried before Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller.

Their aim, the defense claims, was to "harass baseball into submission," thereby keeping the Braves in Milwaukee or winning an expansion franchise for Milwaukee Brewers Inc.

Bowie K. Kuhn, New York attorney for the National League, who declared in his opening statement 10 days ago that the state was being used "as a tool of a private group," played a trump card Thursday.

He succeeded in getting into the record a legal opinion the defense claims was used to influence the state to bring suit. The opinion from a Washington, D.C., law firm held that a state antitrust suit against baseball would "have a substantial chance of success."

Under cross examination by Kuhn, Allan H. (Bud) Selig, president of the Brewers and vice president of Teams Inc., testified that the memorandum was requested by the latter group and turned over to Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette and the county late in July 1965.

The state filed its action the following month. The county started a similar suit in federal court at approximately the same time.

Cullman Is Rated Highly in Alpine Ski Tournament

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — An 18-year-old high school senior from Littleton, N.H., was ready to provide the fireworks today as the North American Alpine Ski Championships opened on Cannon Mountain.

Duncan Cullman won two Eastern junior titles two weeks ago then outskied a field of the top collegians in the Fast to take both the slalom and giant slalom titles last weekend.

The youth passed up a chance to defend his National Junior Championship in Colorado to compete against the older class racers at Cannon.

A field of 80 men and 31 women were registered for the three-day competition, opening with a giant slalom. A regular slalom will be held Saturday and a special giant slalom on Sunday.

Trail crews have been busy all week packing the upper slopes with snow.

Two former Dartmouth and Olympic skiers, Brooks Dodge of Pinkham Notch, N.H., and Tom Corcoran of Waterville Valley, N.H., are entered.

Leading women racers include Penny Northrup of Elliptown, N.Y., a national junior Alpine team member and winner of the Eastern slalom last week, and Jody Kashiwa of Old Forge, N.Y., who won the downhill.

The New England ski season will be climaxed next weekend

Elmer Steele, 81, Dies; Was Former Major Leaguer

Elmer Rae Steele, 81, a former major league baseball player, died Wednesday in Poughkeepsie after a long illness.

He was born in Muzetkill, near Castleton-on-Hudson, May 17, 1884. Following his major league career, Steele became a mail carrier for the Poughkeepsie post office in 1923 and retired in 1953.

He started his career in the big leagues with the Boston Red Sox in 1907. In 1910 he went to Providence where he had a 20-10 record. Pittsburgh signed him that same season and in 1912 he went to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who later assigned him to Toronto in the International League.

An arm injury ended his major league playing but he continued for many years as a player for Poughkeepsie area teams and umpired high school baseball for many years.

with the U.S. Alpine and International Championships at Stowe, Vt.

Billy Kidd, who learned to ski on rugged Mount Mansfield, will head an American field of racers entered against the best of French, Swiss and Austrian competitors. Upwards of two dozen European skiers will fly to Stowe for the three-day meet March 18-20.

Lack of Birdies Fails to Disturb Jack Nicklaus

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus has been so used to shooting birds in South Africa that he's almost forgotten how to bag birdies, but he's not losing any sleep over it.

"I'll be ready for the Masters," the 210-pound Columbus, Ohio, slugger said today as he started the second round of the $100,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament 12 strokes back of Kermit Zarley, the young dark-horse leader from Yakima, Wash.

Zarley, 24-year-old college champion while attending the University of Houston, took the lead Thursday with a seven-under-par 65, equaling the tournament record set by Doug Sanders last year. Nicklaus had an un-Nicklaus-like 77.

"So what?" Nicklaus said with a shrug of his shoulders. "Golf isn't my whole life. I enjoyed the trip to South Africa. I'll get my game back."

Nicklaus, the leading money winner the last two years, also is unconcerned that he has spotted his chief rival, Arnold Palmer, $14,412.50 starting the 1966 season. That's what Palmer has won with his comeback. Jack has won nothing.

"I'm not competing with anybody for money winning honors," Nicklaus said.

Rustiness Evident
Jack's rustiness was evident in the opening round of the Doral — his first tournament since the Crosby in late January. He returned Wednesday from South Africa where he spent six weeks playing golf, hunting and fishing with Gary Player.

Nicklaus is defending champion and a two-time winner in the Masters, but he will face a determined Palmer who has won four times — every even year since 1958.

Palmer, with a victory, two seconds and a third on the winter tour, rallied Thursday after two bogeys and shot a 69 — with an eagle at the eighth — to remain in the running.

Zarley, who canned eight birdies and bogeyed only one hole, had a one-stroke lead over Tommy Jacobs and putting whiz Jay Dolan, tied at 66; three strokes on Johnny Pott, Jack McGowan and Gordon Jones, bracketed at 68, and four on Palmer, Phil Rodgers and Ken Still.

Defending champion Doug Sanders and Tony Lema were tied at 74. Former U.S. Open king Ken Venturi and Gay Brewer Jr., were another shot back at 75.

Rosendale Mayor Answers Reich

Mayor Arthur Mulligan of the Village of Rosendale would like to clarify certain statements published in the Kingston Daily Freeman March 8 by Eric Reich, alleged spokesman for the Peoples Party candidate. Mayor Mulligan takes exception to such statements and misleading facts and would like to answer them in this manner.

"Question No. 1: Why was the property known as the 'Student' property adjoining the Village fire house purchased? The obvious reason is of course for future expansion. Mr. Reich as treasurer of the Rosendale Fire Company should know of the building fund they have which is to be used at some future date for expansion of the fire-hall.

"Question No. 2: Why was the village subjected to the expense of drilling dry wells? It is no secret that the village was experiencing a depleted water supply like many of the neighboring communities in the Hudson Valley caused by a five-year drought. Something had to be done and the board engaged the advice of professionals, consisting of the village engineers and a professional geologist who recommended where the wells should be drilled.

"Question No. 3: Why a well drilled at mountain reservoir? Just a repeat of Question No. 2. Cost of these wells are also a matter of public record.

"Question No. 4: Why did the Secretary of Interior Udall state that Rosendale was not attempting to utilize its water resources? I doubt that the Secretary or his committee visited Rosendale because at the time of his press release we were already supplementing our water supply by pumping with emergency Civil Defense equipment from the caves on Main Street. We were then in our second season of emergency pumping.

"Question No. 5: Why is Rosendale the only incorporated village in the state whose population has decreased since its incorporation? This is also a false statement in that the village population has increased approximately 14 per cent in the past five years as recorded by the U. S. Department of Commerce Bureau of Census. To the best of my knowledge, Mr. Reich has never attended a Village board meeting and therefore has been thoroughly misinformed as to village business."

NEW YORK (AP) — Four men, including a onetime boy friend of singer Fran Warren, have pleaded guilty in Brooklyn to participating in a $1 million swindle of Mays Department Store.

Retired Editor Dies

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — John J. Morton, a retired managing editor of The Olean Times-Herald died Thursday in Mountain Clinic after an illness of several months. He was 70.

Morton's newspaper career spanned 40 years. He retired in 1960.

He began his career as sports editor of the Olean Herald. In 1922, he became city editor of the Olean Times. The newspapers merged in 1932, at which time he was named managing editor.

Open-Heart Specialist Keeps Vigil on Judy After Operation

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A heart specialist is constantly at the bedside of 5-year-old Judy Lynn Funsch following her open-heart operation.

"She actually looks very good," said Judy's mother, Mrs. Clarence Funsch after the parents emerged from the recovery room where the little girl will be watched closely for at least two days.

Mrs. Funsch was in tears. Judy, a frail brown-eyed blonde, made two trips to the operating room at the University of Michigan Hospital Thursday for surgery that could allow her to live a normal life.

Doctors warned the parents that the risks were high, but without an operation she probably would have only a few years to live.

On Judy's first trip, a 10-man surgical team worked for four hours and removed an obstruction in the right pulmonary vein, which carries oxygenated blood from the right lung to the heart.

Then the doctors kept her on the operating table for another hour to watch how she responded.

After a brief period in the recovery room, the little girl was wheeled back to the operating room for minor surgery in connection with a tracheotomy allowing her to breathe easier.

In the open-heart surgery, doctors found that Judy was born without a left pulmonary vein connecting the left lung with the heart, a valve that should have closed at birth was still open and the left lung apparently has never functioned.

They closed the open valve but advised the parents that Judy would have only one lung functioning the rest of her life.

"Judy was crying some when we first got to see her and she obviously was frightened by all that breathing apparatus sticking in her throat," Mrs. Funsch said.

"She wanted a drink of water first thing, which I'm told is normal after such an ordeal. They allowed her to suck on an ice cube.

"Her color was good, she squeezed my hand, and for the first time since she was born there was no blueness under her nails."

Hudson Break-ins

Thieves who forced entry to three Hudson establishments Wednesday night or early Thursday, probably were disappointed with their reward for their efforts. They broke into Bucci's Restaurant on Warren Street, Baccaros' Service Station and Springer's Service Station. The total loot—$3, which was taken from Baccaros'.

Fire Razes Mercantile District in Scarsdale

SCARSDALE, N.Y. (AP) — An early morning fire destroyed a block of stores in this Westchester County community. Two firemen were overcome by smoke inhalation.

The fire, discovered about 2:30 a.m., destroyed a liquor store, a barbershop, a meat market, a dry cleaning store, an appliance store and a real estate office.

The firemen were treated at White Plains Hospital and released.

Officials Probe Fire in Dutchess

Investigation of a costly fire that swept a large two-story frame barn on Schoolhouse Road, Town of Clinton, early today is under investigation by Dutchess County authorities and State Police.

The barn was owned by Walter D. Wile of New York City. The cause of the blaze is believed to be of incendiary origin.

An unidentified motorist, driving along the Taconic Parkway discovered the barn in flames shortly after 1 a. m. today and he stopped and notified East Clinton Fire Co. When firemen arrived they learned the barn was located in the West Clinton Fire District and firemen from that area were dispatched to the scene.

The barn, 50 by 150 feet and two-story high, was destroyed by the flames despite the effort of scores of volunteer firemen who were at the scene more than four hours.

It was reported that machinery, tools and other equipment were lost in the flames. Lack of water hampered fire-fighters, and it was necessary to shuttle water from nearby areas in tank trucks.

Evacuate Four Towns

CHARLEMONT, Mass. (AP) — A mass evacuation was nothing new for at least one of the 500 persons who had to leave Charlemont and four surrounding towns when a railroad tank car filled with deadly chlorine overturned.

"It happened hurriedly, just like this, and we didn't know where we were going," Mrs. Raymond Willis said as she recalled how, as a schoolgirl, she and other children were evacuated from London in September, 1939, at the start of World War II.

"We left with our teachers — our parents stayed behind — and spent eight months at Exmouth, Devon," Mrs. Willis said. The former Doreen Cove, she is now the mother of the three children and expects another.

Walter F. George served as U.S. Senator from Georgia for 34 years.

G-U Names Two

EAST PATERSON, N. J. — Robert J. Brown has been promoted to the newly-created position of manager of insurance and personnel benefits by the Grand Union Company. In charge of all insurance plans for Grand Union since 1959, Brown will now also have overall responsibility for the eastern food chain's program of personnel benefits for its more than 20,000 employees. He will report directly to Charles H. Haight, treasurer of the company. Robert W. Bartole has been named personnel benefits supervisor, replacing William C. McFeeley who has retired. Bartole will report to Brown.

The Press endures because it is free, and it is free only to make other freedoms endure.

Would-be Star—Oh, it's just terrible! My first picture and just read what that awful critic says about me.

Publicity Agent—Don't let anything that nitwit says worry you. Why he can't think for himself—he just repeats everything he hears.

Great persons are able to do great kindness.

Man is the only creature endowed with the power of laughter: Is he not also the only one that deserves to be laughed at?

One Girl to Another—If you could have two wishes, what would they be?

Other Girl—I'd wish for a husband.

First Girl—That's only one wish.

Other Girl—I know, I'd save the other until I saw how he turned out.

Fifty years ago minding one's children really did not mean obeying them.

Reformer—What's wrong with the younger generation?

Realist—Nothing that becoming a parent and a taxpayer won't cure.

For health and constant enjoyment of life give me a keen and ever-present sense of humor; it is the next best thing to an abiding faith in Providence.

Teacher—Is the world round, Jimmy? (During the geography lesson.)

Jimmy—No, ma'am.

Teacher—Oh, isn't it? Is it flat, then?

Teacher—What's wrong with you Jimmy? If the world isn't round and isn't flat, what is it?

Jimmy—Pop says it's crooked.

Brave men in days of old, nailed their colors to the mast.

Group Approves $13.1 Billion, Most for Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved without change today President Johnson's request for $13,135,719,000 in emergency funds, all but a minor fraction earmarked for military and economic operations in Southeast Asia.

The committee acted under a speedup schedule, following up Senate and House actions Thursday which gave Johnson three victories in the Viet Nam debate.

The money is for use during the remaining 3½ months of the present fiscal year, and most of it is to be used to beef up military activities in Viet Nam.

The House will consider the committee's recommendations next Tuesday with prompt passage expected after a brief foreign policy debate.

All but $415 million of the money is for direct military programs. The $415 million includes $275 million for economic aid in Viet Nam, $25 million for the Dominican Republic, $7.5 million each for Laos and Thailand, and $100 million for the President's emergency foreign aid fund.

First One In

NORTH HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The water could be a little warmer, but they've already started using the swimming pool at Louis Guyott's house. The first big splash of 1966 occurred Thursday when a driver's truck rolled down a driveway and took the plunge.

142 Virus Deaths

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — There were 142 deaths in California due to pneumonia and influenza in the week ending March 5, state health officials said.

The total compares to 50 for that week a year ago, and 81 for the previous week.

Rain or Snow Due Sunday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Saturday through Wednesday.

Cool and cloudy at the beginning, with some rain or snow over the weekend and mainly on Sunday. A warming trend is expected early next week and it will be mostly fair. There is some indication of a rain period by mid week. Temperatures will average above normal. Water content of precipitation will be generally light and about ¼ to ½ inch.

Daytime high temperatures will range in the middle 30s to low 40s in the northeast and in the upper 30s and 40s in the other areas. Nighttime lows will be mainly in the 20s and low 30s.

Library Displays Life and Works Of Rabbi Bloom

An eight panel exhibit on the life and work of the late Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom is now on display at the Kingston Library in its first floor reading room.

Rabbi Bloom, who died Jan. 18, 1966, was one of the most prominent spiritual and community leaders in this area. He served as rabbi of Temple Emanuel since 1931, becoming rabbi emeritus in 1965.

Despite the handicap of cerebral palsy, Rabbi Bloom was active in all phases of community life, a well-known scholar, and a nationally known prison chaplain. Not so well-known is his work as a poet, essayist and writer, and several of his works are included in this display. He also taught at the University of New Mexico, Marist College and the Ulster County Community College.

The purpose of the display, which will be in the library until the end of March, is to show all the manifold facets of Rabbi Bloom's life and work. The display notes "John Donne wrote 'I am diminished by any man's death.' This community is particularly diminished by the loss of Rabbi Bloom, for in his life and work, he was many men." Materials for the display were loaned by Mrs. Anna Bloom and Mrs. Jean Dolan of The Freeman.

Young Woman Hurt In Ulster Mishap

A 20-year-old West Hurley woman was injured at 9:10 p. m. Thursday when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in a collision on Route 28 about a half mile east on Route 28A, Town of Ulster.

Trooper Norman Kilfoyle of the Kingston substation said Martha Russell, of West Hurley, was treated at Benedictine Hospital for lacerations of the knees. She was a passenger in a car operated by Regina McNamara, 20, of Ashokan.

According to a report of Trooper Craig Bremer, Seymour North, 61, Glenford, was driving east on the highway when an unidentified car pulled from the shoulder into the driving lane. North swerved into the passing lane to avoid a collision and his car was involved in a mishap with the westbound McNamara vehicle.

OPENING DRAWS NEAR—Last-minute preparations are still underway at the 90,000 square foot Caldor discount department store, junction of Route 9W and Neighborhood Road.

Caldor Will Open Earlier, Expect Impact on Area

Caldor will open its big new Kingston discount department store substantially ahead of schedule sometime within the next two weeks, it was announced today. Construction of the spacious Lake Katrine store is in its final stages and merchandise is arriving at the store in huge truckloads.

Exact opening date for the new store will be announced in the near future, according to Sidney Rosenman, manager of the new store.

See Boost to Area

The impact of Caldor coming to the Kingston area is expected to give this community a big economic boost. In addition to the hundreds of new jobs being created by the discount department store, Caldor's faith in the future growth of the Kingston area has also been responsible for plans for a number of remodeling or expansion projects at existing stores throughout the area.

"Caldor is called a discount department store because it offers its customers the quality merchandise and our service of a department store while at the same time featuring the low prices and large off-street parking of the discount store. The more than 250 employees engaged to staff the new Caldor store will continue the chain's tradition of courtesy, service and helpfulness," Rosenman said.

The new 90,000 square foot Caldor at Lake Katrine, at the junction of Route 9W and Neighborhood Road (near the IBM plant), will provide Kingston area customers with a wide selection of nationally advertised brand name merchandise in 67 different departments.

Steve LoPinto, vice president said his company believes the new store here will "prosper and grow" with Kingston's expanding economy.

The Lake Katrine store includes a 15,000 square foot furniture department which will feature one of the largest selections of moderately priced colonial, traditional and modern furniture in the area. Wall-to-wall carpeting will highlight the decor of the furniture center, and recessed lighting will blend with and greatly enhance the beauty of the entire store, LoPinto said.

An adjacent TBA (Tires, Batteries and Automobile Accessories) center is another feature of the new Caldor store here. Customers will be able to leave their cars at the six-bay auto center, while they show in the new department store, and get a complete service job, including an engine tune-up, lubrication, wheel alignment, and installation of battery, brakes, muffler or shock absorbers.

Six factory-trained mechanics will be on duty six days a week in the TBA center, from 9:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., according to John Nightingale, director of TBA centers for Caldor.

Once inside the department store itself, customers will find displays of every possible need, including a large pharmacy, which will prepare a prescription ready for the customers by the time they leave the store. Also included in the store will be men's, women's and children's ready-to-wear department; also features a "rain check" policy, guaranteeing the availability of all advertised sale merchandise. These services in the "Caldor tradition," which emphasizes that good service is always available on all major appliances and television sets purchased from the stores.

"Kingston area shoppers will find many, many other advantages to shopping in the new Caldor store—the chain's special customer convenience center, at the front of the store, is where arrangements can be made to cash a check, pick up one's packages, get information, meet friends and take care of the thousands of every-day chores that arise in everyone's life, it was pointed out.

10th Store in Chain

The new Lake Katrine store is Caldor's 10th store to be opened since the chain started 14 years ago with a small outlet in Port Chester. Two more Caldor stores will be opened before this summer in Northampton, Mass., and Manchester, Conn., and a third may be opened in the fall.

Caldor had sales of more than $48 million last year and expects sales of more than $100 million within the next two years. "It is through our continuing efforts to offer Caldor customers the best products and service available that Caldor's successful retail department store chains in the country.

"Kingston is a fast-growing area. Our 'partnership' with Kingston's growth is a natural evolution of what Caldor's offers and what Kingston promises," LoPinto said.

A publicly-owned company, Caldor common stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange, and the company's extraordinary growth, as evidenced in earnings figures, shows Caldor's to be unmatched in the retail field.

Two Are Fined $600 Here on Gambling Charges

Two local men booked last week on gambling charges after probe of what police allege was part of a "single operation," involving others previously booked, were sentenced today by City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

George Carpozis, 32, of 37 John Street, charged March 2, with bookmaking, was fined $250, plus a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail and was placed on probation.

Wallace James Dunn, 40, of 4 Tietjen Avenue, charged March 3 with bookmaking and keeping a place for gambling, was fined $250 on the former and $100 on the other, plus 30 days in jail suspended, and was placed on probation.

Both had pleaded guilty a day after their arrest. They had been under $500 bail each.

Police said the gambling charges involved bets on horse races.

Others booked in February on gambling charges were: Gerald V. Pezzello, 39, and Inez Pezzello, 38, of 15 Madison Avenue, and Fred J. Stevens, 65, of Roscoe. Their cases are pending in county court.

Guard Readiness Is Facing Some Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The readiness of many Army National Guard units probably will be set back because they must give individual training to recruits unable to get into crowded Army basic training centers, sources said today.

Such units chiefly are in what is called the immediate reserve, totaling about 184,000 men in 1,680 formations.

Though called the immediate reserve, this force actually is a second-line reserve. However, it has a definite role in certain contingency war plans.

Another contributing factor to retarding the readiness of such units is their loss of trucks and other vehicles, communications equipment, artillery, machine guns and other equipment.

Gear has been drawn off from the immediate reserve and from a third-line, reinforcing reserve, to build up what the Pentagon calls its selected force.

New York is second only to Wisconsin in milk production.
